MISSING PEABODY WOMAN FOUND IN N. Y.

Today

More Population Needed
A New Competition
A Treaty Crippling Us
Maturity Is Beauty

—By Arthur Brisbane—

Copyright, 1922, Star Co.

What does this country need more than anything else, leaving out moral improvement? It needs for its own protection and prosperity greatly INCREASED POPULATION.

We have room in Texas for more people than there are in the United States now.

If this country had five hundred million men and women of the white races, cultivating all of the good land, reclaiming the deserts and the swamps, buying of each other, we should not need to worry about the outside world, or outside markets.

We are losing our European markets because they can't buy, or won't buy. We do not sell to Europe, but to human beings in Europe. If we had those human beings here, in the United States, we would sell to them. And our only salvation at the moment is that we fortunately have a hundred millions here to whom we CAN sell, with whom we do trade.

There could be no greater misfortune than laws that shut out immigration of the right kind. We are shutting our doors at a time when millions of the best types of immigrants would come, Italians, Germans, Irish, Scotch, Russian, Bulgarian, endless others.

With five hundred millions of population here, educated, trained in process of time, this country would need to fear no attack from the outside, would not need to worry about outside markets. We would produce FOR each other and sell TO each other. If 100,000,000 mean prosperity, would not 500,000,000 mean greater prosperity?

The mark may fall, indemnities hang heavy over Germany's head, but that does not interfere with German business men. They have brought the captain of industry business to its highest notch.

Stinnes, head of them all, not content with buying palaces in Moscow, forests in the Ukraine, is now starting iron and steel manufacturing in Java.

The use of Oriental labor to produce goods to undersell Western markets will be one of the next important and dangerous steps in world competition.

Hiram Johnson of California made a speech on the four-power treaty yesterday that ought to convert some Senators. It is curious that the Senate cannot get definite information as to who wrote the treaty. And, as Borah and Johnson pointed out, it is particularly amazing to find that before our representatives signed the treaty they insisted on a modification or reservation and signed that first.

The part of the treaty that ought to interest Hiram Johnson and everybody else on the West Coast is that forbidding us to protect ourselves from Asiatic attack by fortifying the Philippines and Guam.

Why does Japan object to our fortifying Guam? She would not object, if she had no idea of aggression on this side of the Pacific.

Mary Roberts Rinehart, intelligent young woman, says: "No woman over thirty should wear the knee length skirt, for the mature leg is not beautiful."

The Venus of Milo was fully thirty. Many of the young ladies that you see turning back somersaults in the circus or marching jauntily in the chorus are past thirty.

Mary Roberts Rinehart is mistaken. Nothing in nature is perfect until it IS mature.

Compare a scrawny Spring chicken with its mature mother and you get the answer to Mary Roberts Rinehart.

Man's dangerous enemy is the rat, carrying disease, spreading plagues, destroying property. So this news from Meriden, Ct., about a new way to fight Mr. Rat is important.

Look for rat holes, bring up your automobile. Attach a pipe to the exhaust, start the car, and run the gas into the rat hole. Harry Mitchell of Wallingford tried it, dug open the rat hole and found twelve dead, gassed rats. A garden hose might easily be run from the exhaust of an automobile to the rat holes in the cellar. Farmers might use the idea to drive rats in hundreds from under barns.

To get rid of mice, rats and mosquitoes forever would be worth to this earth many times the cost of the big war.

California has always had the biggest trees, biggest ocean, biggest grapes and peaches, biggest of many things. Now she has the biggest university in the world. The enrolled students of the University of California number 43,200. Columbia University, in New York, comes next with 32,420. There could be no greater honor for a State than to possess the university with an attendance greatest in the world.

Here is a new development in labor war. Striking gold miners in South Africa attacked troops, killed mine owners, announced a labor revolution. Then

WIRES TO HUSBAND FOR FARE HOME

Buxton to Bring Back Wife Who Mysteriously Disappeared Last Friday

The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Mrs. Bessie W. Buxton, prominent Peabody clubwoman and church organist, was partly cleared today when she was located in New York City, where she is being temporarily cared for by the Women's Welfare League.

Mrs. Buxton telegraphed her husband for her fare home. The message contained no explanation of why she had left her home, how she reached New York or why she had gone to the quarters of the Welfare League. Buxton asked the Welfare authorities to detain his wife until he could get there.

The telegram came while the Lynn and Salem police were again searching the Lynn woods. It was feared she had met with foul play following her disappearance at midnight Friday. When she vanished she took a suitcase with a few articles of clothing.

Her husband was inclined to attribute her disappearance to a nervous breakdown brought about by overwork.

HOUSE BILL WOULD PRINT WOMEN'S AGES

If a bill now before the Massachusetts House becomes law, election commissioners and registrars of voters will be compelled to publish lists giving the names and ages of women voters. "I know what I'm talking about, Mayme. I saw her age in the poll booth," will be familiar neighborhood gossip if the bill is passed.

MARGARETE MATZENAUER.

Floyd Glotzback, her husband, says he "could not stand Babylon," by which he meant New York City, with staying up nights, hearing the operas and taking breakfast in bed.

By Associated Press.

San Francisco, March 14.—Margarete Matzenauer, famous diva, apparently has lost her chauffeur husband, whom she termed "100 per cent. man."

The husband, Floyd Glotzbach, has come back to his job at the Del Monte Hotel here driving tourists about.

A year ago he took Mme. Matzenauer out for a drive—for hire. She sat on the front seat with him, better to enjoy the scenery. Later came the engagement and marriage and Glotzbach left the driving wheel.

The San Francisco Examiner today gives Glotzbach's reasons for leaving his bride in New York.

"I'd rather be a chauffeur in California than to dwell forever in the palaces of Babylon," he said.

It would seem Glotzbach was forced to let another man drive his wife's automobile.

"It would drive any man crazy to sit back among the cushions and squirm every time he felt the backlash of the transmission, when all it needed was a real mechanician," the reporter quotes.

Neither did Glotzbach enjoy breakfasts in bed. Nor did sitting up night after night through the mad scene of "Lucia" appeal to an ear attuned to the hum of a smooth-running motor.

The reporter says Glotzbach told him there had been no friction; that the chauffeur husband just "escaped" when his bride was not looking; that he will not go back.

Madame Matzenauer, it is said, wants her husband back. There is talk of compromises from New York, but unlistened to, says Glotzbach.

Mme. Matzenauer once said that her first marriage, to Ferrari Fontana, failed because of artists' temperament. She wants a "man," she said. The antithesis of her temperament theory is hinted as responsible for the wreck of the new romance.

ARREST NEAR IN BRUNEN SLAYING

[illegible], N. J., March 14.—An arrest in the slaying of John T. Brunen, the circus man, is expected within 48 hours, Prosecutor Kelsey and Detective Parker said today. "Our investigation," the prosecutor said, "has shown this murder to be a cunningly planned one, by a shrewd, coldly calculating mind. Revenge undoubtedly was the motive, coupled with a desperate effort to cover another crime.

DEMAND BONUS BE PASSED

Veterans Urge Memorial to Congress Before Legislative Committee

General Charles H. Cole, Attorney Leo M. Harlow, Major James T. Duane, Representative Coleman E. Kelly and James D. Toomey of Boston, and other prominent men joined today in demanding that Congress pass the adjusted compensation bill.

They spoke before the legislative Committee on Military Affairs in favor of Representative Toomey's bill which would place the Legislature on record as favoring the bonus.

Representative Toomey called the attention of the committee to the mass meeting recently held by the Boston American in Faneuil Hall. This, he pointed out, indicated that Boston was emphatically in favor of the soldiers' bonus.

FAVORED BY MASSES.

"The opponents of the adjusted compensation bill," General Cole declared, "are the large business firms and the big banking interests. These opponents are bombarding Senators and Congressmen with telegrams asking them to prevent the passage of the bill.

"In the face of this opposition, it is very necessary that Congress should know the true feeling of the country. Its members should be told that the great mass of the people are in favor of the bill. By memorializing Congress in accordance with the terms of this bill, the limited opposition of the banking interests would be offset."

Leo M. Harlow, chairman of the judiciary committee of the American Legion, offered to the House committee letters which he had received from the sixteen Congressmen and two Senators from Massachusetts outlining their stand on the bonus.

"Of these eighteen men," Harlow said, "nine have come out definitely in favor of the adjusted compensation. They are Senators Lodge and Walsh, and Congressmen Paige, Andrews, Maloney, Tague, Gallivan, Frothinghom and Greene.

ATTITUDE OF MEMBERS.

"Congressman Underhill declared that he opposed only the cash feature of the bonus, so that he is probably in favor of the present bill. Congresmen Treadway and Winslow are definitely against it, and the remaining Congressmen are a little indefinite in their stand.

"What man who went to war profited by it? They all suffered financial loss by it. Of the $30 or $33 that they were paid, they paid $7 for insurance, $10 for allotment and $5 for Liberty Bond payments, leaving from eight to eleven dollars to 'squander.'

"The man who was too old, or who didn't choose to go, got money enough to save by earning the biggest pay in the history of the country."

Dr. Brides, head of the Veterans' Bureau, told a pitiful story of some

Police Say Boys Captured in Cambridge Drug Store Admit Part in Breaks

Two alleged burglars, believed to be responsible for a long series of baffling store breaks, were arrested at the point of levelled pistols in Bruker's Drug Store, No. 695 Main street, Cambridge, today, by Sergeant Joseph Shannon and Patrolman Dennis O'Brien of the Cambridge police.

The pair were later arraigned in court, one of them, Charles H. Haskell, seventeen years old, of Portland street, Cambridge, being sentenced to the Concord Reformatory, from which he was out on probation.

The other, James M. Groggan, eighteen, of Boardman street, Cambridge, was held in $1,000 bonds for the Grand Jury.

The boys were trapped in the store as they made a dash to escape upon entry of the policemen. They offered brief resistance, but were quickly

Publishers Demand Relief From High Postal Rates

Washington, March 14 (International News Service).—The American publishers' conference, representing twenty thousand newspapers and magazines today appealed to Congress for relief from excessive burdens imposed by high postal rates in the war revenue bill of 1917.

The publishers contended that the existing rates were intended as a war emergency and that the failure to repeal them is "highly discriminatory and unjust," to the reading public.

MALDEN POLICEMEN GUARD CITY PAYMASTER

Armed with riot guns, two Malden police officers accompanied Assistant City Treasurer Samuel Miller of Malden on his tour of city departments to pay off city employes today. Last week when the paymaster made his rounds in his automobile, he was followed by another car, and it was a measure of precaution that Sergeant Duke and Patrolman Craven guarded the payroll today.

INSANITY PLEA BY PRIEST IN DEATH CASE

Montreal, March 14.—Counsel for Fr. Abelard Delorme, a priest, charged with the murder of his half brother to obtain insurance money, created a sensation in court today when he asked that Delorme's plea of not guilty be changed to one of insanity. The case halted until a doctor was sent for. The plea of insanity was accepted as a plea of guilt.

DECISION REJECTS PLEAS

Full Bench Rules Verdict in Stolen Papers Case Was Justified

The full Supreme Court today overruled the exceptions in the case of Attorney Robert D. Weston and Hector M. Holmes, who were convicted some months ago in Suffolk Superior Court of receiving papers stolen from the office of Attorney Daniel H. Coakley in the Pemberton Building.

The decision, written by Justice Jenney, cites that the jury was justified in finding Weston and Holmes guilty.

As a result of the court's finding, the fines of $300 imposed by Judge Fessenden on each defendant will have to be paid.

The papers in question included letters alleged to have been sent by the late Hollis H. Hunnewell to Mabelle C. Adams, an affidavit and one or two other documents. Said the full court's opinion in part:

"The jury could properly find that the stolen papers were of some value. In considering a wholly different subject it has been said: 'Many papers lacking a pecuniary value to others are of the greatest property value to the owner, and property of the most important character.'

NO AID TO DEFENCE.

"Although all the counts in the indictment did not describe the things alleged to have been stolen as sheets of paper, that does not aid the defence. The defendants did not, by appropriate action, raise any question as to the sufficiency of the description of the articles mentioned in the indictment.

"If a further description had been

WARNER SPRINGS SURPRISE, CALLS FULLER AS WITNESS

Taunton, March 14.—Joseph E. Warner, former speaker of the House, was again subjected to a grilling today when he resumed the stand in the trial of his $100,000 slander suit against Lieutenant-Governor Alvan T. Fuller before Judge Nelson P. Brown in Bristol Superior Court.

The plaintiff sprung a big surprise when it was announced, just as the court opened for the day's session, that Fuller would follow Warner on the witness stand as a witness for the former speaker.

Attorney John W. Cummings, counsel for Fuller, was forced to ask the court to admonish Warner when the witness volunteered answers to questions in the cross-examination.

necessary the prosecution would have been compelled to file a statement of the particular nature and grounds of the crime charges.

"The defendants were not entitled to an acquittal because the theft was alleged to be of a letter or an affidavit instead of sheets of paper, which had thereon letters or an affidavit. Such variance did not prejudice them in the defence and was immaterial.

"The jury was justified in finding that the defendants knew the circumstances under which the property had been taken. It is no defence that they thought that their conduct was justifiable."

Godfrey L. Cabot, Boston millionaire, who was indicted with Weston and Holmes, also took exception to the ruling of Judge Fessenden when the court ordered the jury to return a verdict of not guilty "by reason of variance." Cabot thought he was entitled to a straight acquittal without qualifications, but this exception of his was also overruled.

The cases against Cabot, Weston and Holmes grew out of the investigation of Coakley before the Boston Bar Association. At the trial an element of the defence was that the papers alleged to have been stolen were not properly described.

District Attorney Pelletier appointed Attorney John P. Feeney special district attorney to try the cases.

The defendants, Weston and Holmes, took exceptions to remarks of Feeney which they claimed prejudiced the jury and to the court's refusal to grant a change of venue.

Milton Gentleman Farmer on Trial for Murder

CALEB L. CUNNINGHAM

WOMAN GIVEN YEAR ON DRUG CHARGE

Mrs. Rose Guey, white wife of Eddie E. Guey, Chinese, of Harrison avenue, was sentenced today to one year and one day in the Plymouth House of Correction, following her plea of guilty to a Federal indictment for selling narcotics. Sentence was imposed by Federal Judge Morris, who suspended her husband's sentence, on a similar charge, for six months.

Another case brought against Mrs. Guey by the Federal narcotic squad, alleging illegal possession of drugs, is yet to be acted on by the Grand Jury. Guey was exonerated of this second charge last week.

CUNNINGHAM VISITS SCENE WITH JURY

Vast Estates of Milton Man, on Trial for Murder, Are Inspected

The ususal spectacle of a defendant in a first degree murder case accompanying a jury to the scene of the crime was witnessed today when Caleb Loring Cunningham, on trial in the Dedham Superior Court for killing John Johnson, West Quincy workman, was taken along with the jurors on a trip through Cunningham's vast Milton and Quincy estates.

The jury started on the tour immediately after opening of court today. They were escorted by Sheriff Capen and a staff of deputies. The trip was made in automobiles and lasted more than two hours.

Cunningham was driven to the scene in a closed sedan. He was guarded throughout the trip by two deputy sheriffs. Judge George W. Anderson, who is hearing the case, Attorneys Sherman L. Whipple and John W. McAnarney, of counsel for the defence, District Attorney Frederick D. Katzmann, who is prosecuting the aged and wealthy defendant, and two of his assistants also accompanied the jurymen.

While the party walked through the Cunningham estates Cunningham strolled along between his attorneys and carried on a low, steady conversation with them. He showed much interest in the many spots pointed out to the jurors by District Attorney Katzmann and his own lawyers.

The prisoner appeared cool and collected as he sauntered among old familiar haunts and once or twice a smile came to his lips at some of the remarks passed by other members of the party.

The jurors were shown Cunningham's home, the big stretch of woods in which Johnson is alleged to have been slain while "poaching" kindling, an old log cabin used by Cunningham as a Summer camp and the weather-beaten old Johnson cottage on the West Quincy line.

The party returned to the court in the late afternoon. District Attorney Katzmann began his opening address.

NICKEL FARE POSSIBLE BY AID OF TAX

Elevated Trustees Head Says Margin of Cost Could Be Assessed

Chairman James F. Jackson of the public trustees today declared the people who ride on the Elevated can have a five-cent fare if the cities and towns are willing to meet the balance of the cost of service through general taxation.

He told the Legislative Committee on Street Railways the Elevated has reached a paying basis on the ten-cent fare and the immediate barrier to a gentral reduction in fares is that the law requires the Elevated to repay the sums which the cities and towns advanced to meet the deficit in the first year of operation.

If this obligation, and the requirement that the service be provided at cost, are eliminated by the Legislature, "then there would be nothing in the way of establishing a five-cent fare and reliance upon general taxation to pay the difference between the revenue obtained from that fare and the total cost of furnishing the transportation," he said.

PUBLIC REPRESENTED.

Chairman Jackson said the Elevated is no longer a private enterprise, run for speculative purposes. The public trustees represent the public, not the old Elevated gang.

The Elevated now represents a total stock and bond investment of more than $92,000,000, he said. The subways are worth $44,000,000. The average passenger rides four and one-half miles, in Cleveland less than three miles.

The operating cost of the Elevated last year was 69 per cent. of the income, he said. In Cleveland it was 79 per cent. He said twenty-seven miles of track were rebuilt last year, 105 additional centre-entrance cars were put into service and sixty-five steel cars replaced wooden cars. Within two years the old wooden box cars will all be replaced, he said. He said if the Legislature will give them authority to build new shop facilities the trustees can save a wastage of $250,000 a year.

He said the trustees are setting aside about $2,000,000 for depreciation, thereby plugging up one of the worst holes that existed under private management. This money will be available for new equipment when the new cars and track wear out.

HITS SUBWAY RENTALS.

He said it is extremely unfair to compel the car riders to pay $1,900,000 a year for rental of the subways. The car riders are paying that entire cost, he said. The rental they are paying is sufficient to repay the city of Boston in time for the total cost of building the subways, yet the car riders will never own them.

BRAVES' FIELD TRANSFER PLAN IS OPPOSED

Declaring that they object to being made the victims of "any outrageous experiment," Representative Martin Hayes of Brighton today said to the State Department of Public Utilities that 100,000 car-riders in Allston, Brighton, Watertown and Newton protest against the plan of the Boston Elevated to establish a transfer station at Braves' Field.

Attorney H. Ware Barnum of the Elevated said that the public trustees plan to run three-car trains from the proposed terminal through Commonwealth avenue, the subway to North Station and thence over the East Cambridge viaduct to Lechmere square.

He said they feel more cars can be run, the service vastly improved and the street railway conditions made to the advantage of the riders.

Representative John J. Heffernan of Brighton protested that the proposed terminal at Braves' Field in the Summer months, when the Braves are playing to 25,000 people a day, would be worse than Park street. He said they would not object if the Elevated built a third track, running trains in the rush hours from Oak square, Brighton, into the subway.

Curley Confers on Hyde Park Tangle

Mayor Curley held a conference today with members of the United Improvement Association, who asked him to assist them in the tangle in Hyde Park on jitneys and street cars.

The committee was headed by Jean P. Nickerson, and requested efforts be made to bring about restoration of street car service in that district.

CHARGE JUDGE IS PAWN IN DRY FIGHT

Charges that Judge Arthur B. Stone of the Cambridge District Court is "being used as a pawn by Federal prohibition agents in their fight against U. S. Commissioner Hayes" were made before Judge Carroll of the Supreme Court today by Attorney Harold A. Leventhal.

Leventhal appeared in behalf of David Goulis of Cambridge. Goulis was arrested last month, charged with violation of the State prohibition laws. On his acquittal, he was re-arrested, charged with violation of the Volstead act, and taken before Judge Stone.

Judge Stone ordered him held for the Federal Grand Jury. Goulis, through his counsel, took the case to the Supreme Court.

Leventhal asserted that a State judge has no authority to hold a defendant for a Federal Grand Jury, and charged that this step was taken by the prohibition agents as a means of going over the head of Commissioner Hayes, who will not issue a Federal warrant in a case where a man has been acquitted by State courts.

Judge Carroll gave a verdict in favor of Goulis, and issued a writ of prohibition restraining Judge Stone from assuming jurisdiction in the case. He announced he would refer the decision to the full bench of the court for approval.

Attorney Harold Caverly, appearing for Judge Stone, argued that a Federal statute permits a State judge to hold a defendant for Federal authorities. Leventhal contended this applies only in fugitive from justice proceedings.

Judge Stone's decision to hold Goulis had been hailed as a victory for prohibition forces.

Lady White Found in Hotel, Skull Fractured

London, March 14 (By the Associated Press).—Lady Alice White, widow of Sir Edward White, late chairman of the London County Council, was discovered in a London hotel today with her skull fractured, apparently by some blunt instrument. Her condition is critical.

The police are investigating what at the moment is a sensational mystery with no clews. The press describes it as an attempted murder. The victim is between 50 and 60 years of age.

COURT ASKED TO FREE BARRY IN AUTO CASES

With the opening of the defence in the Middlesex auto ring cases in the East Cambridge Court today Attorney John W. Connolly, representing John M. Barry of Winthrop, ont of the three defendants, asked the court to instruct the jury to return a "not guilty" verdict for his client.

The court took the motion under consideration. The case has now been in progress eleven days.

With Barry the other two men on trial are Attorney George T. Perry of Somerville, and Daniel Collamore of Melrose Highlands. All three are accused of being implicated in the theft of several thousand dollars' worth of automobiles. Perry is alleged to have been the leader and brains of the gang.

When the government rested its case Attorney William M. Garland, chief counsel for the defence, made a brief opening argument and then invited the jury into the courtyard to view one of the alleged stolen machines which have figured in the case.

It is expected that evidence for the defence will occupy another week. Counsel for the defendants promise a number of surprises through introduction of new witnesses.

cowed by sight of their captors' automatics.

When caught the boys were about to remove a large amount of loot piled up in the rear of the store. The loot included cigars, toilet articles and many other supplies.

The boys were seen in the store by the police officers passing on their way to the station. Slipping around to the rear of the building, the policemen found a door forced open. They quickly stepped inside, drew their guns and ordered the boys to throw up their hands. Instead of obeying, both boys made a rush for the door.

They surrendered, however, when the officers threatened to shoot.

According to the police, the boys later admitted that they were responsible for some of the many breaks which have occurred in Cam-

WARNER CALLS FULLER AS WITNESS

Cummings had called upon a man named Strange to stand up in the court room. When he did so Cummings turned to the witness and asked Warner if he knew Strange.

"I prosecuted him in 1915 for wife beating," replied Warner.

This caused an uproar in the courtroom, which was only quieted when the sheriff rapped for order and threatened to remove any persons guilty of repeating the offence.

ADMONISHED BY COURT.

"I ask that Your Honor admonish this witness," demanded Cummings. Judge Brown warned Warner against further volunteering information during his examination.

Warner then, in reply to questions, told of having met Strange in the office of Attorney Hathaway in 1915, when Strange had asked Warner to act as his attorney in Strange's divorce suit.

"What did you tell him?" asked Cummings.

"That I could not let him know until I found out whether Hathaway was acting for Mrs. Strange," replied the witness.

Q.—Why was that? A.—I did not think it right to have both sides of a case in the same law office.

Q.—But you were entirely independent of Mr. Hathaway, were you not? A.—Certainly.

Q.—Why not handle Strange's case then? A.—Because.

Q.—Because why? A.—Because it should not be done.

Warner's memory was even worse today than yesterday. He failed to remember having written a letter on letter paper headed by the names "H F. Hathaway, Joseph E. Warner and James P. Dunne" to Robert E. Bigney of South Boston. This letter invited Bigney to meet Warner in reference to the appointment of certain persons on committees.

Warner also failed to recall writing to other legislators on similar letter heads. He failed to recall when he was president of the S. and M. Company or the White-Warner Stove Company. He said that he was unfamiliar with the methods used by attorneys in keeping records of cases passing through their offices, nor could he remember what law work he had done in 1913 and 1914.

He said he regarded Hathaway as his "law associate" when he and that attorney went together to call upon Attorney William F. Garcelon of Boston, but could not recall whether he had introduced Hathaway to Garcelon as a law associate.

It also was announced today that the Lieutenant-Governor would have an array of 150 witnesses to testify in his defence. These will include Governor Cox, Speaker Young of the House and President Allen of the Senate.

Warner resumed the stand today at reopening of court and was subjected to further cross-examination by Attorney John W. Cummings, chief counsel for Fuller. He was again grilled in regard to a cancelled check made payable to "Hathaway and Warner."

This check was introduced as evidence yesterday and Warner disclaims all knowledge of its existence.

The defence is trying to prove through the check that Warner shared legal fees with Hathaway, with whom Fuller alleges Warner was in business as a law partner.

It was expected that Warner's cross-examination would be completed during the day and that the defence would be launched before the close of today's session.

The defence scored heavily when the cancelled check made payable to "Hathaway & Warner" was introduced by Attorney Cummings.

GOVERNOR WILL RECALL RHODE ISLAND TROOPS

Part of Those in Pawtuxet Valley to Be Withdrawn, Says San Souci

Providence, March 14.—At least part of the troops on strike duty in the Pawtuxet Valley will be withdrawn shortly, Governor San Souci announced at noon today.

Since February 20, when riots broke out at Natick and Pontiac about 250 guardsmen have been stationed in the valley. Last Saturday B. B. & R. Knight, Inc., owners of the Natick and Pontiac mills, published notices of an indefinite shutdown at these plants.

There will be no immediate withdrawal of troops from Pawtucket, where four companies of Coast Artillery are on duty.

Mayor Robert A. Kenyon of Pawtucket conferred with the Governor today and informed him the situation in his city did not warrant removal of the troops.

Judge J. Jerome Hahn, chairman of the State Board of Mediation and Conciliation, held a conference today with John H. Powers, executive board member of the United Textile Workers of America. No statement was made as to the matter discussed at the meeting.

Deputies, some of them armed with riot guns, stopped the marching strike sympathizers some distance from the Glen-Lyon plant, East Providence, today. Later Sheriff Andrews of Providence County stated that no mass picketing would be tolerated in his county, which includes Providence, Pawtucket, Woonsocket and a part of the Pawtuxet Valley.

These mills manufacture woolen and worsted suitings, yarns, worsted goods and men's wear. The announcement of the new time was made today, when the plants were reopened after having been closed since last Friday.

BRUNEN WIDOW ADMITS QUARRELS WITH SLAIN CIRCUS MAN

SHOT HER DURING DISPUTE

Mount Holly, N. J., March 14 (By International News Service)—Mrs. John T. Brunen, widow of the late circus man who was slain in the identical manner as William Desmond Taylor at Los Angeles, today admitted that her husband had wounded her with a revolver during a quarrel.

Sitting within a few feet of the flower-heaped coffin of her husband, Mrs. Brunen for the first time gave her version of the tragedy. She was aroused by stories reflecting upon her attitude and said she wished to give her side to stop them if she could.

"I am perfectly aware of the stories that are being told about me," Mrs. Brunen said. "They are being inspired evidently by someone who seeks my undoing. It is because of them I decided to break my silence. I am as much in the dark as to the identity of the man who killed my husband as everybody else. I suppose every man who has been successful in business has made enemies."

Mrs. Brunen then admitted that she had had quarrels with her husband. One of them, she said, ended with her lying on the floor with a bullet wound in her right side and her husband standing over her with a smoking revolver in his hand.

KILLED A MAN.

"My husband was a good and kind man when he was not drinking," said the widow. "When he was drinking he was like a man bereft. We lived happily together for many years. My husband was a wonderful man and I loved him dearly. I am going to spend every cent I possess to run down the person who killed him.

"My husband once killed a man in Sunbury, Pa., but was exonerated on the ground of self-defence.

"I am not speaking ill of the dead when I say this, but I wish to show that he had a very quick temper and probably made enemies as a result of it.

"I did not see my husband shot. I heard the shot. I ran into the room and my husband was lying on the floor. I know of no motive and I have no idea as to the identity of the slayer. But I am going to find out if I can."

ROBBED IN 1920.

Officials were trying today to link up the circus man's slaying with a robbery in the Brunen home in July, 1920, when $5,000 in money and jewels was stolen without police being called into the case. Mrs. Brunen was the only person in the house at the time of the robbery. According to Prosecutor Kelsey, Mrs. Brunen said she did not want police interference, for fear the robbers would wreak vengeance on Brunen if molested.

The three robbers are believed to have been connected with Brunen's past life because the watch dog became friendly when one of the robbers called her by name.

Mrs. Brunen was to be questioned today as to the possibility of identifying the three men she says she saw leap from a point near her home to the running board of a passing touring car shortly before the murder. She will be asked if they resembled the robbers of July, 1920.

MARRIED TO 11, MAN BLAMES OLD INJURY

Moore, Held as Bigamist, Says He Was Hit With Ball Bat When a Boy

Indianapolis, Ind., March 14 (By International News Service)—Confessed "husband" of at least eleven women, Isaiah Moore, church member and social leader in the towns where his numerous marriages occurred, today faced prosecution on charges of bigamy and embezzlement.

Meanwhile Moore is trying to recall the names of two of his eleven or more "wives" and the alias under which he married some of the others. His only excuse for his actions, according to detectives, is that he has been a victim of nervous disorders induced by a blow on the head with a baseball bat when he was a boy. He is now thirty-two years old. Moore admits he married these women within the last five years.

1—Flora Dolf, at Wyoming, Pa.
2—Amelia Werner, Detroit.
3—Sue Harris, Houma, La.
4—Bessie —— (last name not recalled), Wilson, N. M.
5—Gertrude —— (name also forgotten), Findlay, Ohio.
6—Laura Shields, Spokane, Wash.
7—Florence Johnson, David City, Neb.
8—Helen Hardgraves, Augusta, Kan.
9—Irene Hale, Chicago.
10—Laura Hertzberg, Peoria.
11—Harriet Evans, Vincennes, Ind.

"There may have been one or two before that," he said today. "I don't remember."

It was Miss Evans, or Mrs. Moore No. 11, who brought about Moore's arrest. Miss Evans, now a high school teacher in a Northern Indiana town, said they were married in Vincennes and came to Indianapolis and that after less than a week of married life Moore deserted her and disappeared with $500 of her money.

Operatives of a detective agency who traced Moore to Logansport, thence to Minneapolis, where he became superintendent of a baking plant, declared he was engaged to marry a Minneapolis girl. Their marriage was to have occurred today, they said. During the brief interval here he remained with the eleventh wife, according to the detectives. Moore proposed marriage to three women.

After being returned here from Minneapolis Moore was held several days at a hotel before he was turned over to the police and slated for bigamy and embezzlement following his exposure by Miss Evans. He admitted, according to the detectives, that he fleeced some of his wives. Because he lived here with Miss Evans, authorities said, prosecution will take place in Indianapolis.

Going Up! Not Higher Than 10 Inches for Skirts in Hub

Big Newark Bank Sets Limit at 12, Local Firms Leave It to Girls, but Women Publicists Decree 10 Inches.

What is the proper length for a woman's skirt?

The importance of this question has been emphasized by the action of the directors of the Fidelity-Union Trust Company of Newark, N. J., who have just issued an order compelling the girls employed in that bank to wear skirts that reach at least to a point twelve inches from the ground.

This action places the short skirt problem in the limelight, as it were, as a real problem that must be faced by American business men and institutions since this influential body of business men have taken the matter so seriously.

What of Boston and Boston banks and other business houses?

Investigation shows that the bank officials here are pleased with the judgment shown by the girls they employ. These girls do not have to be told what to wear, according to the bank officials. They know, and allow modesty to rule.

"We have no rules of dress and expect to issue no orders like the Newark bank," declared Stanley P. Wyatt, head of the employment department of the National Shawmut Bank, when questioned on the matter of dress. "Our girls use good judgment as to their dress and do not need such orders."

At the First National Bank much the same information was gained.

LEAVES IT TO GIRLS.

"Our girls are all right," said the head of the employment department. "No orders are needed here as to dress."

But as to the proper length of dress for the girls no information was forthcoming. It was sufficient that the girls strive to please and are modest. Whether the proper length should be ten or twelve or eight inches from the ground is not bothering the banks here.

Turn now to a large department store. Here again the girls were praised for their judgment in dress.

"Of course we have some regulations as to dress," said Superintendent J. H. Fairclough of one of the big retail stores. "But we have done no worrying over the length of the girls' dresses. The girls are asked to wear elbow length sleeves, but are not told anything about the length of their skirts. Naturally we expect that the knees will be covered up as a matter of modesty. Aside from that we have done no worrying over dresses or length of dresses. That is left to the modesty of the girls."

10 INCHES, SAYS DOCTOR.

Although bankers and store managers are loathe to set a proper length for a woman's skirt, women in various walks of life hasten to state their views on the matter. These views are many and varied.

While the length varies from ankle to knee, the average length skirt that Boston women seem to think is modest, healthful and becoming, is a skirt that reaches to a point ten inches above the ground. A shorter skirt than that is called immodest, and in some cases indecent. Longer skirts receive no criticism. So there you are.

"I think that a skirt that reaches to a point ten inches from the ground is modest enough for anyone," says Dr. Eliza Taylor Ransom of Bay State road. "The least amount of clothing possible within the line of propriety and modesty, gives the most health. It is not healthful for a woman to wear heavy clothes that cover her from head to foot.

LONG SKIRTS UNHEALTHFUL.

"Light clothing allowing freedom and fresh air should be permitted. Long skirts are not as healthful as short ones. The great trouble is that the mind of man has not been able to change as suddenly and as severely as the style of women's dresses. The change will come gradually and then we shall not hear any more criticism of short skirts. The men are not yet used to them."

Mrs. Sadie Lipner Shulman, Boston woman lawyer, is now in favor of the short skirt. She thinks the skirt should reach to a point 6 or 8 inches from the ground at least. The limit that she would stand if she was employing girls, she declares, would be 10 inches from the ground.

"A dress that ends at a point higher than 10 inches from the ground is not ladylike," says Mrs. Shulman. "It is really indecent. I would not have a girl with a shorter skirt in my office."

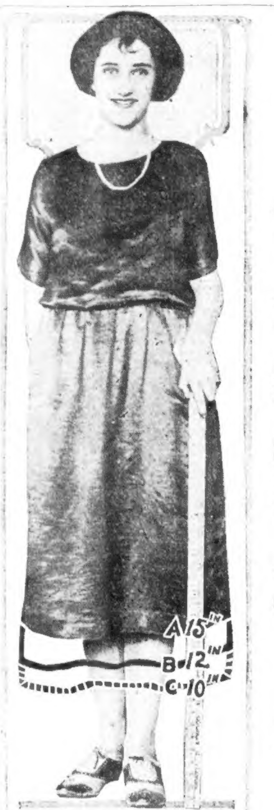
Miss Edith Haynes, another Boston woman lawyer, believes that the girls should regulate their own dresses. "I have no particular length in mind that might be considered the 'right length'," said Miss Haynes. "Personally I think it better to leave the length to the judgment and modesty of the girls themselves."

As for Boston girls, they declare—one and all—that they are modest enough, and have good enough judgment to do their own deciding. "What is modest on one girl is immodest on another," is the way one young woman puts it. "So how can you set any proper length?" It can't be done."

But the problem is spreading. North, South, East and West, the cry is "What is the proper length for a woman's skirt?" Who can answer.

Out in Kansas, for example, a proper and modest dress comes just two inches below the knee. The girl or woman who appears on the street or in business in such garb is assured of the protection of the law. So it has been decreed by one of the Kansas County District Court judges.

Up in Ottawa, Canada, women may appear on the street clad only in a suit of tights if they so desire.



"I'll tell the world my skirt isn't the least bit immodest," avers this charming Boston girl. And it seems that only a veriest prude would declare to the contrary. Note that she is smiling by indicating with a measure that the bottom of her skirt is exactly 15 inches from the ground. This is 3 inches higher than the limit set by the Newark bank, wearer would appear immodest yet who would say that its even in that strictly conventional institution.

A. Height of skirt average girl wears.
B. Height, Newark Trust Co. says must be worn
C. Height, prominent Boston women say is proper.

"WALLINGFORD" SUSPECT HELD IN NEW YORK

Alleged "Get-Rich-Quick" Man Wanted in Brookline Under Arrest

A man believed to be Dillon Clarence Willoughby, nationally known swindler, said to be the original "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," wanted for passing alleged worthless checks in Brookline, is under arrest in New York City, according to dispatches today.

The arrest was made after the supposed "promoter" defrauded a hotel out of $106, the police stated.

New York authorities at once communicated with the Boston police, declaring they believed the prisoner was the elusive get-rich-quick artist who cut such a wide swath while operating in Boston a few years ago.

The Boston police are planning to send an inspector to interview the prisoner, who gave his name when arrested as David Willoughby and his age as forty-four. The description of the prisoner given by the New York authorities tallies closely with that of the dashing Willoughby of Boston fame.

D. C. Willoughby is wanted here for fleecing the Brookline Trust Company out of $700 by means of worthless checks. He was arrested last Summer, but disappeared while awaiting trial.

In the course of his gay career here he is said to have buncoed a number of wealthy Bostonians out of more than $20,000 by means of a mythical plan to develop the port.

PROMOTERS OF NITROGEN STOCK ARE EXONERATED

Complaints that H. O. Robb, Inc., violated the Blue Sky laws in promoting the sale of stock of the International Nitrogen Company, were today dismissed by the State Department of Public Utilities.

"Would you approve of a woman Mayor for Boston?" "Yes," said one; "No," replied another. A question like this is asked at random on the streets by our friendly photographer. The answers, together with the photographs of those questioned, are published every day in a special feature column of the Boston Daily Advertiser.—Advt.

ACCUSES ALLEN OF BUTCHERING CLOSED BANKS

Slaughtered and Destroyed in Plot With Big Interests, McNary Charges

Former Congressman William S. McNary today charged that the closed Boston Trust Companies were "butchered, slaughtered and destroyed" as the result of a conspiracy between Bank Commissioner Joseph C. Allen and the big banking interests of the State.

McNary made his charges at a hearing before the Committee on Banks and Banking while speaking in support of his demand for the formation of a committee to investigate the cause of the closings and the methods of liquidation.

He said only one of the banks needed to be closed. He said the others were "butchered" in the closing of them and are being "slaughtered" in liquidation.

BANK WAS SOLVENT.

He said the Hanover Trust Company, of which he was treasurer, was closed by the Bank Commissioner's pique and resentment.

"Let the public know whether the closing of these banks was a proper action," said McNary. "The Hanover should not have been closed, because it was solvent when it was closed, but it is distinctly insolvent today.

"The Hanover had 60 per cent. in reserve, a much larger amount than is usually carried by any trust company. It has been said we violated the time-certificate law. If any crime was committed, the bank could have been fined. Instead, it was sentenced to execution. It was closed on a legal technicality, the doubt of which has not yet been removed.

"In Boston the idea was prevalent that there were too many banks and that the banking business should be reserved for the socially elect. Certain banks were marked for destruction and in every case the destruction was carried out.

DONE BY THE BIG BANKS.

"Mistakes and errors of judgment, possibly even crime, were committed, but in the large banks the same things had been done.

"The action in closing the banks was high-handed. He took his advice from down-town and not until he saw that certain suburban banks in Charlestown and Dorchester were likely to be involved did he consult his governor.

"We need a law to save us from such Czar-like, Kaiser-like actions."

Simon Swig said to the committee that Bank Commissioner Allen and Thomas Beal, president of the Second National Bank, discussed at the Union Club means of closing the Tremont Trust Company. That was shortly after Allen was appointed, he said.

HURRICANES DELAY FREIGHTER 14 DAYS

With her crew much the worse for wear the Leyland Line freighter Scythian, arrived in Boston today from London, nearly fourteen days overdue. The crew told of hurricanes and storms that not only held back the freighter, but actually blew her off the course. At times the boat became absolutely helpless, the crew reported, and was forced to put about and flee before the storm. The second engineer was knocked down a companionway and received a broken rib, and other men were injured less severely.

Trial of the indictment against Judge Edward P. Pierce of the State Supreme Court, which alleges conspiracy to obstruct justice, was today postponed by District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien until the impeachment proceedings against the jurist are disposed of in the State Legislature. O'Brien granted the postponement on the petition of Attorney George M. Poland, instigator of the impeachment proceedings.

SHOE PRICES DROP AFTER WAGE CUT

Manufacturers in Brockton District Announce Cut of 25 to 50 Cents

A reduction in the price of shoes was announced today by the manufacturers of Brockton and the Old Colony district generally, comprising one of the largest shoe making centres in the country.

Although authoritive announcement of the amount of the cut was lacking, it was understood to be between 25 and 50 cents a pair, wholesale price.

The price reduction follows the award last night of a wage cut of 10 per cent., made by the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, in the controversy between the manufacturers and unions representing the bulk of 21,000 operatives. This wage cut, it was said, amounted to from 12 to 15 cents reduction in the factory costs of Brockton grade welt shoes, and from 11 to 19 cents a pair in the shoes in adjoining towns. With administrative economies to be made at the same time, the manufacturers worked out the lower wholesale prices.

Those prices were communicated by telegraph today to salesmen scattered through the country with samples of Summer and Fall shoes that will be the first to show the price reduction.

Unions and manufacturers had accepted in advance the award by the State board, but the law permits the parties to notify the board that they accept its pronouncement for sixty days, subject to a reopening of the case. Brockton locals of the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, with delegates of unions in nearby towns will meet tomorrow night to consider the policy to be followed. The Manufacturers' Association also is expected to decide its attitude within a few days. The wage cut is as of yesterday.

JEWETT SWORN IN AS NAVAL OFFICER

Stephen S. Jewett of Laconia, N. H., newly-appointed naval officer at the port of Boston, was sworn into office today by Collector of the Port W. W. Lufkin, in the presence of the heads of the departments at the Custom House. Among those present was former Naval Officer James Lyford of Intervale, N. H., Jewett's sole surviving predecessor. The office of naval officer was created in Colonial days when the King of England placed a naval officer in every custom house to see that the Crown was not defrauded.

HARLOW ASKS ACTION ON HIS RESIGNATION

The resignation of George M. Harlow, master of the House of Correction at Deer Island, reached Mayor Curley today. Harlow tendered his resignation on February 16, a few days after Curley took office, but at that time the Mayor refused to accept it. In his letter today Harlow says as he has accepted the appointment as associate civil service commissioner he can no longer continue his duties as master of the House of Correction and asked that his former resignation take effect immediately.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE NOT TO FIGHT BILL ON AGES

The Boston League of Women Voters will not fight the bill now before the Legislature, and which if passed will compel the registrars of voters to publish the age of women voters. This announcement was made today by Mrs. Wenona Osborne Pinkham, executive secretary of the league. "I see no greater hardship for the women than for the men," stated Mrs. Pinkham. "The only real reason why ages should not be published is that of business. A firm might not hire a woman if they knew her real age. But that is also true of men, so why try to differentiate?"

CALL ATTACK ON JUDGE DODGE 'SCANDALOUS'

Dittemore's Attorneys Reply to Objections of Science Church Directors

Efforts of the directors of the Christian Science Church to prevent former Judge Frederic Dodge from sitting as a master in the reinstatement petition brought against them by John V. Dittemore are characterized as "unwarranted, improper and scandalous" in an affidavit filed in the Supreme Court today by Dittemore's counsel.

Dittemore was removed as director some time ago. He filed a petition asking that he be reinstated, and former Judge Dodge was appointed to hear the case.

A short time ago former Governor John L. Bates, counsel for the directors, filed a motion asking the discharge of Judge Dodge, alleging that he was biased and prejudiced.

The affidavit filed against the motion today is signed by Attorneys William G. Thompson and Fred C. Demond, counsel for Dittemore.

"On information and belief," continues the affidavit, "we allege that the charge was made for the purpose, in part at least, of attempting to coerce an upright and impartial magistrate into withdrawing from the case."

EXPOSES PLOT TO DESTROY STATE FUND

Senator Tarbell Reads Wire From Untermeyer Warning Legislators

A telegram from Samuel Untermeyer, declaring he has positive proof old-line insurance corporations are attempting to destroy the State fund for workmen's compensation insurance, was today read by Senator Warren E. Tarbell of East Brookfield at a hearing before the legislative Committee on Judiciary at the State House.

Tarbell also declared that personal threats have ben made against him by the insurance companies because of his campaign to establish the State fund in this State.

Untermeyer said in his telegram: "Message just received. It is impossible to go tomorrow, but am deeply interested. Companies are seeking to destroy the State fund. Have conclusive proof, and will send you copy of report tomorrow."

"I, myself," said Tarbell, "have been threatened by the insurance companies in this State for daring to criticize them.

"When the people of Massachusetts realize the methods these insurance companies have used to fortify their hold, I don't believe they will stand for it.

"Lobbyists of the insurance companies violate the rules of the Legislature by appearing on the floor of the House and Senate, lobbying members in connection with insurance legislation."

Tarbell charged that paid employes of organized labor had appeared at the State House in past years lobbying against his bill.

LEGISLATURE IS URGED TO APPEAL FOR BONUS

of his experiences with ex-service men.

"One of the greatest arguments against the bonus is the contention that the disabled ex-service man is being taken care of by existing machinery.

"Many of the men come to my office as a last resort. They are starving and poorly clothed. Their families are suffering untold privations. They are plainly not disabled by war, but they will be disabled none the less is help does not come soon.

NEED TIDING OVER.

"My bureau cannot help them, as they are not technically disabled soldiers. What they need is some kind of a bonus which will tide them over. I would like to go on record as favoring the bonus."

The need for the bonus among Massachusetts ex-service men was emphasized by Major Duane.

"A few weeks ago the Legislature appropriated $50,000 in order to give work to the unemployed about the various Metropolitan parkways. The first day of the work was wet and disagreeable and many of the men were obliged to walk through the snow and rain in shoes without soles. It was found ten of them had no underwear.

"From what kind of men does the opposition come? The head of one of the largest dye works in the country said a few days ago:

"'If the bonus bill is passed, I'll fire every veteran in my concern.'

"The other day an ex-service man went into a highly respected institute of learning in one of our suburbs and asked for signatures to the petition for the bonus which is being circulated by the Boston American. All the students said was:

"'To hell with you and your bonus. Our checks come through every month. Tell us where we can get some liquor and we'll talk with you.'"

Charges Vets Die While Waiting Aid

Ex-service men are dropping dead for want of help because the Veterans' Bureau is not functioning properly, Representative John Thomas of Gloucester today told the House Committee on Military Affairs.

He spoke in favor of his bill to request Congress to investigate the aid rendered by the Veterans' Bureau to disabled soldiers. Dr. Brides of the local bureau was ready to refute the charges, but the hearing was postponed a week to enable those in favor of the bill to appear.

When Representative Thomas was asked by one of the committeemen if he had the names of any Gloucester men who had suffered neglect by the bureau, he said he would procure them at once.

Major James T. Duane of the American Legion said he was ready to furnish any number of such names from throughout the State. Representative Thomas said he had nothing against Dr. Brides.

"Ten Gloucester men," he said, "have died waiting for aid from the Veterans' Bureau. When I kicked at the failure of the bureau, they sent a doctor to Gloucester, who examined 300 men. That is all that has been done."

"Here is a letter I received from one of the assistants in the bureau:

"'This is one H—— of a system and things seem to be getting worse. There are too many men who are holding executive jobs who are too young for them. One doctor who was sent from Washington to look out for the whole district never had any actual medical experience.'"

Hear Harding Will Use Veto on Bonus

By International News Service.

Palm Beach, Fla., March 14.—President Harding has informed members of his vacation party that if Congress goes ahead and passes the soldier bonus measure as at present constituted, he will veto the measure.

This message came ashore today from the President's houseboat as members of the party started on a fishing trip. It was reported, but not confirmed, that the President has sent a telegram to Chairman Fordney, of the House Ways and Means Committee at Washington, apprising him of his decision.

So far as the President is concerned, it is stated by his confidants, it is a sales tax or nothing.

It is not doubted that the House is going ahead and pass the measure, but none of the administration officials accompanying the President believed that the House can pass it over his veto, and even if this were accomplished it is believed certain that the measure would strike a snag in the Senate.

The President, according to members of his party, feels he has said the last word he cares to on the bonus question during this session of Congress. So far as he is concerned, these spokesmen say, it is the sales tax or nothing.

MELLON CALLED BEFORE BONUS COMMITTEE

Currency Comptroller and Gov. Harding Also Asked for Their Opinions

Washington, March 14.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger and Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Board will be asked to appear before the House Ways and Means Committee to give further statements with regard to the bank loan provision of the soldiers' bonus.

The motion to call in the three administration officers was adopted, 13 to 11, after a sharp contest. Seven Republicans joined with six Democrats in voting in the affirmative. The Republicans were Longworth, Tilson, Bacharach, Treadway, Watson, Young and Mott. Two Democrats, Tague and Carew, voted against the motion.

The Ways and Means Committee voted down a motion to reinsert the cash feature of the bonus and to reimpose the excess profits tax and another motion to restore the war time income surtax rate of 65 per cent. These were said to have been the only important amendments brought up at this the first meeting of the entire committee to consider the bonus bill.

Discussion on the bonus measure was precipitated in the House when Representative Andrew, Republican, Massachusetts, obtained unanimous consent to insert in the record a copy of a letter he has written to members of the Ways and Means Committee and also the House uring that there be included in the bonus bill provision for adjusted compensation for the immediate relatives of service men who died during the war or have died since that time.

Pass the bonus at once.

This is the appeal contained in the hundreds of letters that continue to flood the Boston American.

The letters are from ex-service men who are faced with the problem of earning a living when all opportunity for employment has been taken away.

They are from the mothers and wives of ex-service men who are trying to hold off the landlord and the grocer until their son or husband can get employment.

They are from just plain men and women, fair-minded and public spirited, who are unwilling to allow a continuation of the injustice that gave an unselfish patriot so much less than a selfish stay-at-home.

Here is a letter which shows in some measure the spirit of the American soldier:

DIED SMOKING.

"As I look back to the days of 1918 as we lay out in the mud on the Western Front, I realize that the thought of our loved ones at home and the knowledge that America was proud of us was what carried us on.

"I remember particularly the death of one of my friends. Sammy his name was, and his home was in Wolfboro, N. H.

"One day, while we were crossing a field near the Oise a big shell came down on us. We made a dive for the ground, but Sam was too late. When we got to our feet, Sammy was sitting on the side of the shell hole.

"His knees were blown open and a piece of shrapnel had gone completely through him low down on the side. He said:

"'Boys, I'm dying. Give me a cigarette.'

"We gave him one, and after one or two puffs he said:

"'Boys, I'm going first, but I am going to be a man. Tell mother I died for her and old New Hampshire. I hope they will be proud of me.'

"Then he died, the cigarette still smoking in his fingers.

PRAISE AMERICAN.

"With that picture engraved on my mind, I have no words to express my feeling toward those who are fighting against a fair compensation to the veteran for the suffering and danger he endured."

The John P. Colleary Post and the Brookline Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars express their thanks to the Boston American in its bonus campaign in letters received today. A. E. Doyle, commander of the Brookline Post, adds:

"It is indeed gratifying to the men who followed the Flag on foreign soil to know that there is one paper ready to tell the truth. It is a safe bet that if some of the opponents of the bonus bill ever got near enough to the firing line to hear a shell burst, they would willingly say: 'You boys go ahead and do the fighting, and we will pay anything you ask.'

"More power to the American, the service man's friend."

106,000 Sign Petition for Soldier's Bonus

A total of 106,000 signatures have been affixed to the Boston American's petition demanding that Congress act without further delay on the adjusted compensation bill for ex-service men and women who served in the World War.

These signatures came from all parts of New England. Small hamlets vied with big cities in pouring their share of signatures into the Boston American office. All the signatures thus far received by this newspaper have been forwarded to Washington to quicken the action of the national lawmakers.

The petition circulated by the Boston American is the most popular one ever circulated in the six New England States.

The wide popularity of the petition is indicated by the districts from which the signatures are flowing in. Farmers and others working in rural communities are freely signing the petition as well as men and women located in the large towns and cities. All believe that Congress should quit its present tactics and take definite action in behalf of the bonus measure.

LENINE RECUPERATING AT COUNTRY ESTATE

Moscow, March 14.—Nicolai Lenine, head of the Soviet government of Russia, is still in his country retreat recuperating from illness. He is suffering from insomnia and a nervous complaint, but it does not deter him from working on his new book, which explains the long cherished plan of the Third Internationale to unite all the workers into one big international group. Lenine's physicians have ordered him to remain in the country as long as possible. The Bolshevist leader spends an hour or two every day shooting rabbits.

THE LAUNDRY DRAIN REVEALS WHAT WASH-DAY RUBBING DOES TO YOUR CLOTHES

Next washday after you have let all the water run out of the laundry tub, peer down the drain and see what is there.

Bits of lint, tiny fuzzy balls, little roughed-up threads. You've noticed them often—did it ever occur to you what they were? Particles of the materials that make up your clothes. And you yourself have worn them off rubbing the clothes on a wash-board.

Now there is a way to remove every bit of dirt without injuring the material in any way.

Soak your clothes in Rinso suds. This new kind of soap is so rich in pure cleansing ingredients that it gently loosens and dissolves all the dirt. There is no hard rubbing, no wear and tear on the clothes—nothing to break or even wea[illegible] the fabric.

NEW HOSPITAL TO CARE FOR WAR HEROES

Plans of Veterans' Bureau for New England Are Made Public

By CHARLES O. POWER.

What is the hospital program of the United States Veterans' Bureau so far as it relates to New England?

That is what many of the members of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars have asked the Boston American to find out.

In order to secure the desired information I have been in touch with Colonel Charles R. Forbes, director of the bureau at Washington, and with those in charge of the headquarters of the soldier organizations at the national capital.

NEW HOSPITAL.

Tentative plans call for the construction of a new Federal government hospital in Massachusetts for mental and nervous cases, to be equipped with 500 beds and to be built within two years; for the making over of one of the naval barracks in Newport for the care of the same kind of cases, with a capacity of 250 beds; for the opening of the tuberculosis hospital now being constructed in Rutland on June 1 and the further enlargement of it, from time to time, as needs may require.

Those are the big features. The Veterans' Bureau will not buy the Essex county tuberculosis hospital at Middleton, all reports from interested parties to the contrary. An agreement will be made for the care of not less than 50 tuberculosis patients on a month to month basis for an indefinite period, with the privilege of utilizing the full capacity of about 110 beds if necessary. Under no circumstances will there be an outright purchase of the property.

RETAIN GROTON PLANT.

The hospital at Groton will be retained on a similar basis for the care of tuberculosis patients.

The hospital at East Norfolk for the treatment of epileptics will be abandoned on July 1 and the property returned to the State. Many of the patients will be sent to their homes and others will be transferred to State hospitals in their home States.

West Roxbury hospital will be retained for at least two years, or until the contemplated Federal hospital for mental and nervous cases is ready for business. Thus Mayor Curley's plans for removing the old folks from Long Island to a better home at West Roxbury will be delayed.

The hospital at Parker Hill is in no danger of being abandoned in the near future. The bureau's arrangement with Chelsea Naval Hospital will continue indefinitely.

FOR MENTAL DISEASES.

"The Veterans' Bureau," says Colonel Forbes, "is very anxious to provide adequate hospital facilities for all classes of disabled service men. The question as to whether another hospital will be built in Massachusetts will depend entirely on the hospital population and the funds made available by legislation for hospital construction."

A hospital to be used entirely for mental cases is planned in the western part of the State, where it will be accessible to men from Vermont, New Hampshire and towns in northern Connecticut. The exact location has not been determined.

WIEDFELDT MAY BE GERMAN AMBASSADOR

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND, Boston American Staff Correspondent.

Berlin, March 14.—Privy Councillor Dr. Otto Wiedfeldt, a leading director of the Krupp Industrial Works at Essen, I am informed, is ready to accept the post of German Ambassador to Washinkton.

The appointment of Dr. Wiedfeldt is said to be dependent upon two things—that Krupps will release him and that Dr. Walter Rathenau approves his selection by Chancellor Wirth.

It is understood that the post was offered to the industrial director before Rathenau was named Foreign Minister.

Dr. Wiedfeldt is one of the biggest industrial and economic authorities in Germany, and has almost the solid backing of the German banks and industrial organizations for the Washington post.

COLLECTOR NICHOLS GIVES LAST WARNING

Internal Revenue Collector Malcolm E. Nichols today warned income tax payers that a $1,000 fine would be imposed on all delinquents who wilfully neglected to file their returns before tomorrow night, March 15. Those who fail to make their returns by the 15th through carelessness will be fined at the rate of $5 a day until their returns are in.

LENINE PHOTOS FOUND ON LISBON BOMBERS

Lisbon, March 14.—Bomb explosions have occurred recently in several parts of the city and others were reported today. Several casualties have resulted, the victims including two of the bomb throwers, upon whom the police reported finding portraits of Lenine and Trotzky. The government is taking strong measures to prevent the projected social uprising. There have been more than 100 arrests of agitators.

MADE $50 BILLS FROM $1, PAYS $200 FINE

Herbert Marshall of Utica, was fined $200 in the Federal Court today following his plea of guilty to a charge of passing a counterfeit bill. He admitted giving a clerk in Pittsfield a $1 bill which had been raised to $50.

Did Hughes Drink to King's Health? Yes, Maybe?

Washington, March 14.—Did Secretary of State Hughes drink a toast to King George on his recent trip to eBrmuda.

Official Washington answers in the language of Margot Asquith: "Ah, I wonder."

According to reports brought back from Bermuda—and they emanate from a man who was an unseen and unbidden spectator of a dinner party given in honor of the Secretary of State by Sir James Willcott — America's statesman drank in wine that was sparkling long health to His Brittanic Majesty.

"And what of it," asks the Secretary of State's assistants. "Just a little mater of diplomatic courtesy," they say.

SOUTH AFRICAN REBELS MADE LAST STAND

Concentrate Forces at Forsburg as Government Begins Bombardment

Johannesburg, Union of South Africa, March 14.—A grand assault upon the rebel works defending Forsburg was undertaken today. It was reported that the government commander sent word to the revels to remove all women and children from Forsburg, as the place was to be bombarded and put under siege. The rebels pressed civilians into labor squads to strengthen the defences.

Defeated on all fronts, the rebels were making their last stand at Forsburg with every prospect that even this position would be lost within forty-eight hours. The government commandant said that the rebels' position was hopeless and that reinforcements were coming up for the government army. Many prisoners were taken when Brakpan fell into the hands of the government forces.

Order Restored in Johannesburg

London, March 14 (By the Associated Press).—Pretoria government forces are closing in upon the revolutionaries from the east and west, according to late advices from South Africa. The main centres of resistance are now at Fordsburg and Jeppestown, where the government forces are opposed by heavily armed rebel commandos.

A Bloemfontein dispatch says the main railway line was dynamited near the Transvaal border, and a locomotive was derailed, but there were no casualties.

Johannesburg, which on Saturday and Sunday was the centre of the battle area, resumed its normal appearance yesterday, according to Reuters correspondent there. The streets were filled with the usual shopping crowds and the fashionable tea rooms and stores were all doing business.

The correspondent declares the Dutch burghers have materially assisted the British forces in their successes against the revolution, being especially effective in outflanking positions held by the rebels. They made many captures in the vicinity of Benoni and Dunswart.

"Ghastly Slaughter" On Rand Deplored

Cape Town, Union of South Africa, March 14.—In the House of Assembly today members of the Labor party deplored the "ghastly slaughter" on the Rand in connection with the mining strike and demanded that the government negotiate immediately for the cessation of hostilities to prevent further loss of life.

Government spokesmen repudiated the assertions of labor members that the strike movement had only assumed a revolutionary character when the government began to employ force.

KIWANIS CLUB ENTERTAINS FILM STARS

Luncheon Begins Busy Day of Party; Trip to Parker Hill Hospital

Another busy day for the visiting moving picture stars began today, when they went to luncheon at the Somerset Hotel, as guests of the Kiwanis Club.

This was the biggest affair by far ever staged by that organization. More than eight hundred guests, including one hundred State and city officials, were present, and the club had made the most elaborate preparations to insure the affair's success.

Then the stars were presented to a great crowd at Marcus Loew's Orpheum Theatre, from where they went to Loew's new State Theatre, the opening of which is the occasion for their visit in Boston.

Here another crowd greeted them—larger if anything than the throng that turned out yesterday. The whole city was on tiptoe to see the celebrities.

The program arranged by Loew for the rest of the day included a visit to Parker Hill Hospital, where the sick and wounded veterans were given an opportunity to welcome and talk to the men and women so familiar to them on the silver screen.

And after that Loew had arranged a dinner at the Copley-Plaza Hotel, presentation at the Orpheum Theatre to another crowd, followed by another visit to the new State Theatre.

The day was to wind up with a formal supper given the stars by the New England Theatre Owners and Exhibitors at the Somerset Hotel. This was to be followed by a dance.

CAPTURED PAIR CHARGED WITH ROBBERY

2 Youths Caught by Patrolman After Chase Through Somerville Streets

A chase through the darkened streets of Somerville, in which two shots were fired, resulted today in the arrest of two young men charged with breaking and entering in the little tobacco shop of Mrs. Mary J. Wilson, a widow, located at No. 27 Webster avenue, Somerville.

The men were booked on charges of breaking and entering and drunkenness. They gave the names of Henry D. Sheehan, who claims to live on Inman street, Cambridge, and William J. Lannigan of Adrian street, Somerville.

The arrests came after Patrolman John F. Cruise detected two men loitering in front of the store. They fled when he approached, and he discovered the door had been forced. He gave chase, firing twice to halt them, and arrested Sheehan on Everett street. A short time later Patrolman Cruise went to Lannigan's house with Patrolman Charles W. Shepard and arrested Lannigan.

Police say that about $45 worth of cigarettes and some $3 in cash had been taken.

How To Avoid INFLUENZA

Nothing you can do will so effectually protect you against the Influenza or Grippe epidemic as keeping your organs of digestion and elimination active and your system free from poisonous accumulations.

Doctors and health authorities everywhere are warning people of the danger of constipation, and advising, and urging everyone to see that the bowels and other eliminative organs act freely and regularly.

Ordinary laxatives, purges and cathartics, salts, oils, calomel and the like, are good enough to clean out the system, but do not strengthen the weakened organs; they do not build up vitality.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome constipation and get your system in such shape that you can feel reasonably sure of resisting disease. You can do so if you will just get a 25c. box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a while.

NR Tablets do much more than merely cause pleasant, easy bowel action. This medicine acts upon the digestive as well as eliminative organs, promotes good digestion, causes the body to get the nourishment from all the food you eat, gives you a good, hearty appetite, strengthens the liver, overcomes biliousness, regulates kidney and bowel action and gives the whole body a thorough cleaning out. This accomplished you will not have to take medicine every day. An occasional NR Tablet will keep your body in condition and you can always feel your best. Sold and recommended by druggists.

The WELL-DRESSED MAN

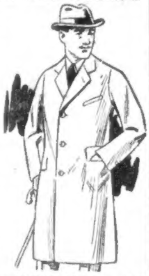
By ALFRED STEPHEN BRYAN

Popular Exclusiveness

New York, March 14.—Americans are peculiarly receptive to Fashions, because this is a country virtually without distinctions of caste, without Aristocracy and without Snobocracy, excepting only those hinge-kneed flunkeys whose bodies are at home, but whose hearts are abroad. Here the man with no bottom to his purse and the man with a hole in it dress much alike. The difference is all in the cost of clothes and not in the cut of clothes.

Hence, the old line of demarcation between popular styles and exclusive styles has been virtually erased. We all wear the same sort of things, only some of us wear them better, because we study our good points and make the most of them.

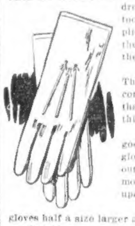
For the man who possesses but one top coat that portrayed in the accompanying sketch is a practical and prepossessing model, with its three buttons, straight, squarish body lines and loose hang from the armpits down.



In truth, the loose-fitting top coat gives longer and better wear than its close-fitting fellow, because it is not so subject to pulled seams and strained stitches in sitting and bending.

The Finger of Fashion

If perfervid patriotism, waving the Star-Spangled Banner, will not term me traitor, one of the shortcomings of the American mode of dress is too great insistence upon snug fit and too little appreciation of easy drape. This applies not alone to so important an article as the coat, but also to so humble an accessory as the glove.



Many of us wear our gloves far too tight. This makes them difficult to draw on and off conveniently, which may account for the fact that gloves are carried, rather than worn in this country.

Contrariwise, the Englishman, who rarely goes ungloved upon any occasion, wears his gloves full-cut and loose. He gets more wear out of each pair, because the tight glove rips more quickly on account of the strain imposed upon it.

The generality of us could very well wear gloves half a size larger and thus make them last longer and feel more comfortable.

The gloves, sketched here, are the always smart tan capeskins for Spring, having spead-tip backs. Be good enough to observe the roomy cut of the fingers.

GIRL HURT WITH YOUNG DODGE NEAR DEATH

Son of Late Auto Man, Held in $7,000, Refuses to Discuss the Affair

Kalamazoo, Mich., March 14.—Miss Emmeline Kwakerneck, nineteen-year-old Western State Normal student, injured when she jumped from an automobile driven by John D. Dodge, son of the late millionaire automobile manufacturer, was said this morning to be in a serious condition.

At the hospital, where it was stated she was suffering from a fractured skull, all visitors were denied admittance to her room.

Dodge, arraigned on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated and illegally transporting liquor, is under bond of $7,000 to appear for a hearing next Tuesday.

Miss Ethel Clemens and Miss Sue Stegenga, also Western State Normal students, who were in the machine with Miss Kwakerneck, Dodge and Rex Earl of this city, have been summoned as witnesses at the hearing. Earl, charged with drunkenness, was released under bond of $500.

Aside from denying he was intoxicated and asserting it was planned only to give the young women "a little ride," Dodge has refused to discuss the affair.

TREATY FRIENDS EXPECTED TO WIN TEST

Rejection of Amendment Is Forecast; No Indication of Ratification Vote

By International News Service.

Washington, March 14.—Rejection in the Senate today of the first proposal to amend the four-power Pacific treaty textually was expected to give its supporters their first victory, but not to reveal conclusively the probable line on ratification.

Only a majority vote is required by the Senate rules to reject either an amendment or a reservation proposal to a treaty. A two-thirds vote is necessary to ratify.

Senator Lodge, the Republican leader, commanded, as the battle over the treaty was renewed, an ample majority to insure the defeat of the pending amendment, which was sponsored by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, one of the large number of Democratic Senators opposed to the pact, after he had first offered it as a reservation.

As modified by Robinson, the amendment would include China, Siberia and the rest of the Asiatic mainland within the terms of the treaty, and would provide not only for a conference between the four powers signatory to it whenever a dispute arose between them, but of other nations having territorial or other interests in the Pacific and the Far East.

The amendment would apply the League of Nations plan to the Pacific and the Orient and would in the judgment of Senator Lodge destroy the purpose and effect of the treaty.

An almost solid phalanx of Republican votes was expected to be mustered against the amendment with whatever Democratic support Underwood, the Democratic leader, was able to command.

But the absence of a number of Senators on both sides was considered likely to prevent a real test of strength or to furnish an indisputable indication of what the final vote on ratification will probably be.

Farmers Demand Referendum on Treaty

(By Cosmopolitan News Service.)

Washington, March 14.—The four power pact is declared to be a creation inviting a further warfare in a statement issued today by Benjamin C. March, managing editor of the Farmers' National Council.

"Such a vicious departure from our national traditions and policies should not be permitted without a referendum to the American people," says the statement.

"Our national government has been long enough the pawn of British financiers. The American farmers and other workers have paid the piper when these international financiers, who are in cahoots with our own financial rulers, call the tune. The administration does not dare submit this issue to a vote."

Thus, is it any wonder that IRONIZED YEAST is recognized by hundreds of thousands of people as the one perfect vitamine tonic treament?

YOU'LL GET RID OF BLACKHEADS SURE

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get two ounces of calonite powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores and do not get the blackheads out after they become hard. The calonite powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

ETHER DRINKS ARE SOLD IN PROVIDENCE

Restaurants Dispense Concoction With "Kick"; Liquor Freely Purchased

In a previous installment the Boston American told of discoveries made by one of its investigators, who found Providence, R. I., to be "wide open," in contrast to a statement made by Prohibition Director Edward J. Dunn of Rhode Island, that Rhode Island was fast becoming dry.

The Boston American investigator discovered that not only was every saloon in Providence selling liquor of some kind, but that some of the restaurants on Federal Hill were also dispensing intoxicants. In fact five of the restaurants in the big Italian settlement on Federal Hill were until recently selling home-brew with ether to provide the kick. A large number of people, reeking of ether, were picked up on the streets by the police.

CANADIAN SUPPLY LOW.

In the Fox Point, North End and Olneyville sections of Providence, also South Providence, moonshine is being sold, some colored, and some "White Mule." Synthetic whiskey, made of spirits, water and caramel coloring, and some made with rye essence, is being plentifully disposed of at from twenty-five cents to thirty-five cents a drink. Practically ever bar is selling 5 per cent. beer at fifteen cents a glass.

Throughout the city American rye and bourbon are very scarce, there being little to be had except on physicians' prescriptions. At the present time the supply of Canadian Scotch and rye is low, as the roads from Canada are almost impassable.

According to the saloon keepers, liquor is coming in from Canadian points only in suitcase loads, and very little is being received by boat. The saloon keepers say they are paying $95 a case for this Canadian liquor, which they retail for $12 to $14 a bottle.

Canadian gin and rye is being sold for $8 and $10 a bottle, but is not in much demand. Because of the shortage of supply, some saloon keepers are said to be charging sixty and seventy five cents a drink for Scotch, but fifty cents was the prevalent price found by the Boston American investigator.

PROSECUTE MOONSHINERS.

The saloon keepers were unanimous in stating that liquor would again be plentiful as soon as the roads into Canada became passable, so that automobiles could be run through. They all seemed to regard their business as legitimate, and appeared surprised when questioned about prohibition enforcement agents.

One proprietor voiced the attitude of the others, when he declared that he was not attempting to evade them. "If they raid me, I'll simply go to court, and pay a fine," he said. "What's the use of trying to cover up. If they get you they get you, and that's all there is to it."

As a matter of fact the Federal enforcement men seem to believe that it is more important to get the moonshiners than it is the saloon keepers. They apparently feel that they are cutting off the source of supply. One moonshiner recently got thirty days in jail for the second offence.

According to the saloon keepers, the "bootleggers' ring" mentioned by Director Dunn, is a farce. No such ring exists, they declare, asserting that nine tenths of the business is a cut throat game. All the dealers are said to be out for themselves, and some are more fortunate than others, in that they can obtain more and better liquor.

2 FINED AFTER PARKER HILL HOSPITAL FIGHT

New York, March 14.—New York clubwomen and leaders in civic affairs today sent out what may prove to be a feminine battle cry against Sculptor Frederick MacMonnies' depiction of "civic virtue" as a nude and thoroughly muscled young man enthusiastically kicking the prostrate forms of two sirens representative of urban temptation and vice.

Says Any School Can Teach You How to Talk in Ten Lessons, but a Wife Can Teach You How to Shut Up in One

After-dinner speaking is an art. Any speaker knows when to begin, but very few of them know when to stop.

Strong black coffee is generally served at banquets. This helps to keep the diners awake.

The average after-dinner speaker naturally talks about half an hour unless he wants to say something.

Single men make better speakers than married ones. They've had more practice.

And men are usually better speakers than women, if they're given a chance.

A speaker at a banquet doesn't have to know what he's talking about; the guests have to listen anyway.

You always receive loud applause at the end. It's hard to tell whether they enjoyed your speech or are glad you're through.

Never encourage a diner to speak. Most of them don't need any encouragement.

Of course a lot of men are optimists; they go to a banquet for the sole purpose of eating.

When you attend a banquet you're supposed to check your appetite along with your hat and coat.

Every banquet bill of fare usually has an advertisement of some good restaurant on it.

It's a well known fact that men who are used to banquets always take along a couple of sandwiches.

There is no sense in banquets except that you like to wear your full dress clothes once in a while whether they're paid for or not.

A man always feels uncomfortable at a banquet. He isn't sure his tailor is not sitting right near him.

Don't get sore if the speaker keeps talking for an hour or so, maybe he's married.

He didn't come to the banquet to eat any more than you did.

Nature provided him with a voice and he wants to use it somewhere.

Any school can teach you how to speak, in ten lessons. But a wife can teach you how to shut up in one.

"Big Bill's" Group of American I. W. W.'s to Run Russian Industries

By Associated Press.

Moscow, March 14.—William D. (Big Bill) Haywood heads a group of American I. W. W. to whom Premier Lenine has granted a concession to operate the big Nedejdinsky Iron Works in the Ural Mountain region, part of the coal mines in the Kosnets Basin and auxiliary factories.

It is stipulated that 4,500 fully qualified American workers with a technical personnel shall be brought into Russia to operate the properties and that each of them must purchase $100 worth of tools or instruments for his own equipment and sign an undertaking to observe all the rules of the Soviet labor code.

The announcement states that the government has assigned $300,000 towards financing the undertaking. It is also to provide wood to build homes for workers and assign 27,000 acres of land for agriculture.

The whole production of all these concessions is to go to the government, which undertakes to supply the workmen with a ration and allow them part of the production to carry on further work.

The agreement is to hold for two years. If the workmen desire to leave Russia earlier, the government is to assist them to return to their country.

Haywood disappeared from the United States last year while under $65,000 bail, after he and about ninety other I. W. W. men had been convicted of espionage and conspiracy.

New York, March 14.—H. S. Calvert, one of the men associated with William D. Haywood in obtaining a concession to operate an iron works and coal mines in Russia, says that a party of engineers and technicians will soon leave for Russia to prepare the way for 6,000 American workmen.

Others in the group, Calvert said, are Thomas Barker and D. Bayer, well known in I. W. W. circles in this country, but now in Russia with Haywood.

ARREST MADE IN EAST BOSTON SHOOTING

Restaurant Man Wounded as He Tries to Seize Bandit's Revolver

A man giving the name of "Brooklyn Joe" was arrested by Sergeant Lewis and Special Officers Driscoll and Winn of the East Boston Station today in connection with the shooting of Antonio DeAngelo, Bowdoin square restaurant proprietor, residing at No. 236 Maverick street, East Boston.

DeAngelo is in the City Hospital with bullet wounds in his right arm and right hand.

The suspect is held as a suspicious person. He was taken to the hospital for identification, but DeAngelo was under ether at the time, and the attempt was deferred until later.

DeAngelo, although wounded in the fracas, put up such a battle with his fists that the two men who had attacked him fled without obtaining any money. He told the police he was walking home on Maverick street when two men came up in an automobile and asked him for a match.

While DeAngelo was searching, one man drew a revolver, covered him and demanded his money. DeAngelo, after begging the man to put the weapon away, grabbed it.

The hold-up man fired two shots, one taking effect in DeAngelo's left arm and the other in his right hand.

Fearing that the report of the shots would draw attention, the man jumped into the auto and the pair made their escape before citizens came to DeAngelo's aid.

CHINESE GIRLS BEING SOLD BY PARENTS

Hundreds Sacrificed to Lives of Shame by Famine Conditions

(By International News Service.)

Shanghai, March 14.—Hundreds of girls are being sold in the mine districts of China at prices ranging from $1 to $100 each in order that their parents may live, according to reports from missionaries and relief workers.

Commissioner Francis D. Pearce, of the Salvation Army at Peking, reports:

"Large numbers of girls were sold in China last year by their parents and guardians in order to obtain the wherewithal to live.

"It is notorious that many of these girls were used for immoral purposes. General Booth, in common with all who desire the preservation of womanhood, was shocked upon hearing the news and wrote from London that everything possible should be done to prevent this traffic, even to the extent of providing the parents with needed money for food.

From Honan Province a correspondent writes:

"The famine situation in Eastern Honan has become acute. More than half of the animals are dead and girls are being sold for a dollar each."

In an address before the American Woman's Club in Shanghai, Miss Louise Hammond, a missionary from Wu Sih, Kiang-Su Province, painted a vivid picture of the fight the masses of the Chinese in the famine districts are having to live.

"One of the evils to which the Chinese are being forced by the difficulty of providing rice for hungry mouths is the sale of their girl babies," said Miss Hammond.

"A child of four years can be bought for from $7 to $10, but girls of sixteen bring from $16 to $100. It is often to the advantage of the mother-in-law to buy a prospective daughter, as she can then have her services as a household servant before as well as after marriage."

W. A. Gaston to Run Against Lodge, Says Worcester Report

Worcester, March 14.—Colonel William A. Gaston, Boston banker, will announce his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator before starting on a business trip to Europe on April 1, it is reported in local political circles.

Colonel Gaston has had several conferences with Mayor Peter F. Sullivan here, and it is understood that Colonel Gaston wishes Mayor Sullivan to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Colonel Gaston has been asked by prominent members of the A. A. R. I. R. here to stand as a candidate against Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, and it is understood that he has agreed to do so.

FRENCH URGE ANTI-DRY CAMPAIGN IN AMERICA

Paris, March 14.—This is "American day" in the wine growers' convention at Sarbonne. The grape growers and the wine exporters are discussing ways and means for launching a great anti-dry campaign in the United States. The vintners said they hoped to "educate the United States to fight intemperance by moderate drinking of wines."

TRINITY STUDENT HELD FOR FIRES, QUITS COLLEGE

Hartford, Ct., March 14.—George Mulligan, Trinity College freshman, whose case of alleged incendiarism in connection with recent fires at the college was dismissed on March 3 for lack of evidence, has resigned from the college. He has returned to his home in Bergenfield, N. J., to take a complete rest, and will return to Trinity in September.

LAPSE OF DRAFT LAW RELEASES HORRIGAN

Son of Jamaica Plain Couple in Separation Suit Freed by Hayes

Because the three-year limit in which action can be taken by the government against alleged draft evaders had passed before Francis D. Horrigan of No. 420 Centre street, Jamaica Plain, was arrested last week, United States Commissioner Hayes today dismissed the case against him.

Horrigan was arrested on March 7, immediately after he had finished testifying in Probate Court in the suit of his mother against his father for separate support.

When his case came up today, Assistant United States Attorney Curtis said he "regretted" the government could not proceed against Horrigan, but the law provides that action must be instituted within three years after the alleged offence.

The draft was in June, 1917, and the complaint against Horrigan was not made out until this month.

Peter F. Costello of Dorchester was reappointed chairman of the Boston Committee for the Entertainment of Disabled Veterans by Mayor Curley today. The committee reorganized and elected Joseph P. Donahue of Dorchester vice-chairman, Miss Louise McCloskey of Allston secretary, Thomas E. Lydon of Charlestown, Frank Silva of East Boston, Joseph Normile of Roxbury and Frank Scott of South Boston as members.

Arrangements are being made for a Spring and Summer program of outings for the veterans, which will include picnics, theatres, boxing, baseball and auto parties.

BEDETTI IS SYMPHONY SOLOIST

Fourth Extra Concert Is Decided Success and Pleases Audience

Mr. Monteux presented the fourth concert in the Monday night series of Symphony concerts last night with Jean Bedetti, cellist, as soloist. The program opened with the Dvorak "New World" symphony and was followed by the symphonic poem, "Omphale's Spinning Wheel," the Lalo concerto for violoncello, and the overture to "Lenore" by Beethoven.

From the start to finish, it was a program that pleased the audience and they showed their appreciation by very long-continued applause. Mr. Monteux must have been gratified at the success which met his men on this occasion. The symphony was very beautifully done—far more so than is usually the case when this symphony is given. Other conductors seem to have a tendency to overdo some of the effects.

Mr. Bedetti's appearance as soloist from the ranks of the orchestra was nothing short of a triumph. He played extremely well and was recalled time after time and applauded to the echo both by the audience and the orchestra. They were obviously very proud of him and had every right to be.

The Saint-Saens "Omphale's Spinning Wheel" was very charming in the delicacy which was through it like a thread. In a word, one of the most enjoyable concerts heard in some time.

Nashua, N. H., March 14.—Among the marriage intentions filed at the office of City Clerk Arthur L. Cyr was that of Fred Chesian, twenty-eight years old, stage electrician, and Miss Alice Forgett, twenty-one years old, actress, both of Boston.

BETTY ALDEN'S COMMENT ON BOSTON SOCIETY

Junior League to Hear Talk on Industrial Science

By BETTY ALDEN

VERILY—is there nothing light or frothy about the speeches which various prominent speakers have delivered at the weekly luncheons of the Junior League? The "debbies," however, seem to be holding their own most admirably, to judge by the large attendance at these League affairs.

It has been announced that these weekly Tuesday luncheons will be held at 12:30 from now on. At the one today, Dr. Wade Wright of the occupational clinic of the Massachusetts General Hospital will speak on "Industrial Science." Not a topic commonly calculated to take up the mind of the much-maligned flapper, and yet just such topics are taken up before the debutantes almost every week. I say "almost," because every now and then the entertainment committee arranges to have some one give some clever monologues, or amuse the girls in another way, but for the most part youthful "leaguers" listen to speeches of a distinctly weighty calibre.

Special attention is called to the luncheon a week from today, when Miss Hortense Schwedd, field secretary of the National Association for Constitutional Government, will talk about the growth and menace of radicalism. As the latter is felt to be an extremely interesting subject, the committee hopes for a large attendance. At the luncheon given last week, Colonel Charles R. Gow, who spoke on the question of "The Soldiers' Bonus," gave a talk in which he clearly explained the various plans of raising the money should the plan be accepted.

Apparently the week-end never fails to bring about a host of brilliant entertainments at Palm Beach, where an unusually large number of Boston society folk have been making merry during the colder months.

The Samedi Soir Club held the last of a series of dinner dances at the Country Club on Saturday night, thereby ending the season at the club, although the golf course will remain open until April 1. Boston was well represented in the list of patronesses for the dinner-dance, for their exclusive coterie included Mrs. Reginald Boardman, Mrs. George von L. Meyer and Mrs. Gurnee Munn. Other patronesses were Mrs. Pierre L. Barbey, Mrs. J. S. Cosden, Mrs. Charles Cushing, Mrs. Douglas Paige, Mrs. Harry Darlington, Mrs. John Rutherford and Mrs. Charles Winn.

Also on Saturday night came the very smart farewell dinner dance given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Leonard Replogle. The latter, who have been spending the season at Palm Beach, and Mrs. Annie F. Breizer, Florenz Ziegfeld and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Amory, have left for New York on board Mr. Replogle's private car, The Westmont.

Of those attending the dinner dance given by the Replogles were Mr. and Mrs. Gurnee Munn, Mr. and Mrs. Amory, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Boardman, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Leland Sterry, Dr. and Mrs. Preston Pope Satterwait, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rutherford, Angier Duke, Edward T. Stotesbury, Miss Suzanne Pierson, Gordon Douglas, Mrs. Barklie Henry, Miss Ethel Carhart and a score of other notables.

Speaking of entertainments at Palm Beach, Dr. and Mrs. Hobart Endicott Warren of Boston and the North Shore were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earle P. Charlton, who entertained at the final luncheon given at the Palm Beach Country Club for Dr. H. E. Hayd of Buffalo. Also in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Mack, Miss Harriett Mack and Mrs. Russell C. Love.

One of the notable charity functions of the week in the way of exclusive sponsoring and patronage is the eighty-fifth annual sale of fancy and useful articles which the Trinity Church Home Aid Society is holding today at the Trinity parish house from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Luncheon will be served from noon until 2 o'clock.

Those managing the sale are Mesdames A. William Reggio, G. Glover Crocker, Jr., Clifford D. Sawyer, Alexander Mann, William T. Aldrich, Gerald A. Bramwell, William O. Taylor and the Misses Eleanor Sohier, Emily Storer and Anne Bowen.

Betty Alden

Miss Theodora Hill, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah French Hill of Beacon street, is one of the prominent debutantes, several large functions having been given in her honor.

LEWIS SOUNDS COAL STRIKE WARNING

Men to Go Out April 1 Unless Conference Is Arranged, He Tells Davis

Washington, March 14.—Assurances that the organized bituminous mine workers of the country will lay down their tools on April 1 unless there is a joint conference arranged with the operators meanwhile were conveyed to Secretary of Labor Davis today by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

Davis and Lewis held a two-hour conference today at the Labor Department and continued it at a nearby hotel during lunch.

PASTOR FLAYS PUSSY-FOOT PREACHING

Dr. Stratton Also Pleads to Make Pulpit More Sensational

By Associated Press.

New York, March 14.—In a letter addressed to "discriminating New Yorkers," Rev. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, today pleaded for the overthrow of "pulpit pussy-footing" and the adoption of more "sensational preaching."

It was from Dr. Straton's pulpit that William A. Brady, theatrical producer, recently defended the morals of the stage and moving picture studio in an open debate with the pastor. Rev. Dr. Stuart MacArthur, pastor emiritus, recently withdrew from the congregation after criticising his successor for sensationalism.

"There is no use trying to heal the cancer of sin with sotthing syrup," Dr. Straton declared in his letter, "and it is idle to sprinkle cologne water upon the putrid iniquities of a rebellious race."

To counteract the "appalling looseness and rottenness of the times," he asserted, "every real preacher must be a sensationalist, because religion is the most revolutionary thing ever given to earth."

"With ten millions of the human race rotting in untimely graves because of humanity's sins and war lust, and with such a saturnania of crime and vice and shamelessness as society has never known before, surely some preachers are needed who will dare to speak the truth at any hazard."

SIR LAMING EVANS ACTS AS SECRETARY FOR INDIA

London, March 14. (International News Service).—Sir Laming Worthington Evans, Secretary of State for War and a member of the British delegation at the Washington Conference, today became acting secretary for India to fill the position made vacant by the enforced resignation of E. S. Montague last week. It is understood the two chief causes which led to Montague's resignation were his pro-Moslem policy and his action in publishing the demands of the Indian Moslems, without consulting the Cabinet.

Keep that wedding day complexion

The blushing bride of today should be the blooming matron of tomorrow, retaining the charm of girlhood's freshness to enhance radiant maturity.

For bridal beauty should not fade, nor the passing of each anniversary be recorded on your face.

Keep the school-girl complexion which graced your wedding day, and you will keep your youth. With a fresh, smooth skin no woman ever seems old.

The problem of keeping such a complexion was solved centuries ago. The method is simple — the means within the reach of all.

Cosmetic cleansing the secret

To keep your complexion fresh and smooth you must keep it scrupulously clean. You can't allow dirt, oil and perspiration to collect and clog the pores if you value clearness and fine texture.

You can't depend on cold cream to do this cleansing—repeated applications help fill up the pores. The best way is to wash your face with the mild, soothing lather blended from palm and olive oils, the cleansers used by Cleopatra.

Science has combined those two Oriental oils in the bland, balmy facial soap which bears their name. You need never be afraid of the effects of soap and water if the soap you use is Palmolive.

How it acts

The rich, profuse lather, massaged into the skin, penetrates the pores and removes every trace of the clogging accumulations which when neglected make the skin texture coarse and cause blackheads and blotches.

It softens the skin and keeps it flexible and smooth. It freshens and stimulates, encouraging firmness and attractive natural color.

Oily skins won't need cold cream or lotions after using Palmolive. If the skin is inclined to dryness, the time to apply cold cream is after this cosmetic cleansing.

And remember, powder and rouge are perfectly harmless when applied to a clean skin and removed carefully once a day.

Don't use it only for your face

Complexion beauty should extend to throat, neck and shoulders. These are quite as conspicuous as your face for beauty or the lack of it.

Give them the same beautifying cleansing that you do your face and they become soft, white and smooth. Use it regularly for bathing and let it do for your body what it does for your face.

Not too expensive

Although Palmolive is the finest, mildest facial soap that can be produced, the price is not too high to permit general use on the washstand for bathing.

This moderate price is due to popularity, to the enormous demand which keeps the Palmolive factories working day and night and necessitates the importation of the costly oils in vast quantity.

Thus soap which would cost at least 25 cents a cake if made in small quantities is offered for only 10 cents, a price all can afford. The old-time luxury of the few may now be enjoyed the world over.

COUNCIL VOTES $20,000 FOR LIGHT PROBE

Fight Against Edison Company's High Prices to Be Carried On

Mayor James M. Curley's order asking that the City Council appropriate $20,000 more to carry on the fight against the high prices charged for electricity by the Edison Illuminating Company, was unanimously passed by that body.

The fight carried on by the Boston American the past year for cheaper rates has been endorsed by the Mayor and the entire City Council, both of whom get squarely behind this newspaper's efforts to give the public a lower figure for electric light.

ANOTHER LINK.

"Another link in the chain that is slowly but surely being forged around the Edison Electric Illuminating Company for a reduction in its price of electricity will be made by the passage of this order of Mayor Curley," said Councillor James A. Watson, in urging the Council to pass the order.

"As a result Mayor Peters, during his term, together with the Boston American and its attorney, Grenville S. MacFarland, have been prosecuting the Edison Company before the Public Utilities Commission for a reduction in the price of electricity," continued Watson.

"I am satisfied from information that I have at first hand from those active in this matter that the Public Utilities Commission, on the evidence submitted by the Edison Company, through its officials and employes, and without any evidence submitted on the part of the city, cannot help reporting back, compelling the Edison to reduce its price to eight cents an hour for electricity.

WATSON PRAISES CURLEY.

"Mayor Curley shows a very magnanimous spirit in appropriating $20,000 for a further investigation of the Edison Company. He has decided to go through with the case against the company.

"He has decided to give those attorneys who were appointed by Mayor Peters a free hand in the prosecution. The public should appreciate it.

"He will uphold the hands of those persons who have the fight in hand. It will mean a saving of two-fifths of the price now paid for electric lighting. Not only will the householder be benefited, but the merchant and offices will also feel the reduction."

The Boston American's fight for cheaper gas has been carried on for some time by its attorney, Grenville S. MacFarland. The city's probe was started during Mayor Peters' term.

LED BY HILL.

This investigation was led by Corporation Counsel Arthur D. Hill, on behalf of the city. He had been assisted by attorneys representing the Boston American.

Following many long, extensive hearings, the Boston American won its first victory in the announcement recently made by the Edison Company of the abolition of the "coal clause." They made a reduction of 1 per cent.

When Mr. Curley was elected Mayor, Arthur D. Hill resigned as corporation counsel, but was retained by Mayor Curley to continue the legal fight against this corporation in conjunction with the Boston American.

The actual savings to the household consumers and the public in general when the case is finally won, will carry far into the millions. The savings to the city alone, as announced by Attorney Hill will be at least between $70,000 and $80,000 a year.

The $20,000 passed by the council for further investigation makes $80,000 already appropriated for the reduction in rates. During Mayor Peters' last year in office, he authorized the expenditure of $60,000 for this purpose.

Next Hearing on Edison Rates Set for April 3

The date of the next public hearing in the rate case brought against the Edison Electric Illuminating Company by the Boston American and the City of Boston, was today set for April 3 by the State Department of Public Utilities.

Former Corporation Counsel Arthur D. Hill today appeared as the special counsel in response to Mayor Curley's invitation to continue the represent the city.

Attorney Grenville S. McFarland represented the Boston American, and F. Manley Ives appeared for the Edison.

Chairman Attwill of the Department asked the atorneys when they would be ready to argue on the important interrogatories filed by Mr. MacFarland to compel the Edison to reveal some of its innermost secrets relative to the manner in which rates are imposed upon the public.

Mr. MacFarland said he would proceed at any time. Chairman Attwill said the Department would probably be ready to hear the arguments next Monday and Mr. Hill said he would also appear at that time as the city was especially interested to force the Edison to answer the questions propounded by Mr. MacFarland.

Taken to the Lynn Hospital for treatment, the girl refused to say anything about herself except that she had walked out into the sea at Lynn Beach until the water was up to her chin. She refused to say whether she intended to commit suicide or not.

According to the police, she is a runaway from a State institution, where she had been an inmate for several months.

She will be given an examination as to her sanity.

FRIENDLY ACT NEARLY RESULTS IN DEATH

Because they wanted to do a friendly turn to a stranger Alfred and Albert Butler of Woburn came within an ace of being shot by a policeman, they told the police today. The stranger, in an automobile, asked to be directed to Woburn Centre. The brothers volunteered to show him, and climbed into his car. As they neared the Centre a policeman ordered them to stop. Instead the driver stepped on the gas and the machine sprang forward. The officer fired two shots which whizzed over the heads of the frightened Butler brothers. The machine sped on to Cambridge road, where the driver allowed the brothers to alight. The car bore the number plate of a stolen car.

NORTH IRELAND FELICITATED BY KING

Praises, at Opening of Ulster Parliament, Spirit of Conciliation

Belfast, March 14 (By the Associated Press).—The Ulster Parliament reconvened today. The King's speech, opening the session, stated that the legal process of transferring the various services in northern Ireland from British control to that of the Ulster government was now complete, but regretted that the transfer of the staff and the allocation of property and records to the government departments had not proceeded as expeditiously. The speech continued:

"I congratulate you on the manner in which, in spite of these obstacles, the departments of the government have been brought so rapidly into smooth working order. The spirit of conciliation shown in northern Ireland in the settlement of industrial disputes is tending toward a more satisfactory state of affairs."

The King expressed hope that means would shortly be devised enabling the government departments to cope with the difficulty of the administrative problems, and stating that projected legislation included conferring of powers necessary to prevent crime, secure peace and maintain order.

12 Injured by Belfast Bomb

Special Cable Dispatch.

Belfast, March 14.—A bomb thrown in the Catholic quarter wounded twelve persons including four women and two babies.

Belfast, March 14 (By the Associated Press).—Belfast's casualty list from the activities of gunmen and bomb throwers in the last ten weeks totals 83 dead and 157 seriously wounded, according to the Northern Whig, which declares this is "relatively more terrible than for the whole year 1921."

The list would have been greatly swollen, the newspaper adds, if all those who received bullet wounds were included.

MOVIE STARS OPEN NEW THEATRE

Riot of Fun as Latest Loew House Has Official Christening

By FRIEDA DAVIS

Whether it was the dancing of Mae Murray and Harry Pilcer, or the singing of Nora Bayes, or the acts of Fred Stone and the Duncan Sisters and the English girls from "Tip Top," and those of Ted Lewis and his jazz band and Cecil Cunningham from the "Greenwich Village Follies" that drew the crowds to the new State Theatre, it was not, in all probability, the feature film, "The Champion," featuring Wallace Reid, excellent though that picture was.

Seldom does one set of boards behind the footlights contain such an array of stars as did the stage of the Loew house, and seldom is the street outside a theatre as mobbed as was Massachusetts avenue, where the people waited to watch the stars as they entered. At midnight they were still waiting, this time to watch the celebrities leave.

The program for the evening sent the season off to an auspicious start. The house, which is unquestionably one of the finest motion picture theatres in the country, is very large, attractive, and well ventilated. One of the features is the extreme width of the seats and the distance between the rows. One can almost pass by people without causing them to rise. Another innovation is the arrangement whereby two lighted clocks are set on either side of the stage, where they can be seen constantly, whether the house is dark or not.

ACTS AS TOASTMASTER.

After the showing of "The Champion," Nils Granlund, who has engineered the three-day trip of the stars to Boston, acted as toastmaster, giving little sketches of the players as they came on the stage. Edith Stockton appeared first, then followed, in turn, Betty Woodmere, "Buster" Collier, Billie Dove, Betty Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. "Smiling Billy" Mason, who opened up the action with a singing act.

Johnny Hines was in evidence, darting off and on whenever the spirit moved him. He appeared from the wrong side of the stage sweeping it solemnly. When the toastmaster remonstrated, Hines smiled his beaming smile, and said to Granlund, as he passed the broom to him, "here, boy, take this away," and turned to the audience. Sheldon Lewis and his wife, Virginia Pearson, appeared for a few words, and were followed by Mary Anderson, Ann Forrest, Anna Held, Jr., Miriam Cooper, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Willie Hoppe, Crauford Kent, Hermine Shone and Helene "Smiles" Davis, who sang her overseas "Smiles" songs.

THEDA BARA SPEAKS.

Bernard Granville made his first appearance racing headlong down the aisle with the cry of "Peanuts! Chewing gum! All the latest magazines!" and then deserted this for the stage, where he and Frank Fay set about a laugh-provoking contest. Mae Murray and Harry Pilcer danced, and Theda Bara made a speech, and was followed by Marcus Loew, who brought all this splendor for the housewarming of this, his newest theatre.

Mr. Loew spoke of the movies and their makers in general, and touched upon the subject of censorship—a subject dear to the heart of the motion picture producers. "Let the people censor their own productions," he said. "They are the ones who pay to see the pictures anyway!"

Here a bustle in the wings told of the arrival of Fred Stone, the Duncan Sisters, and the sixteen London Palace girls, fresh from their performance at the Colonial Theatre. Mr. Stone's appearance was marked by a rousing welcome. He sang some of his favorite songs, danced some of his favorite dances, and drew his usual uproarious laughs.

BRING DOWN HOUSE.

Next came the "Greenwich Village Follies" contingent, Ted Lewis and his band, and Cecil Cunningham. They literally "brought down the house," a house that had entered into the spirit of the thing and was enjoying everything to the full. Nora Bayes' singing proved such a drawing card that she was forced to give several encores.

It was far beyond the usual theatre hour when the performance was over. Events crowded on each other so thick and fast that all sense of time was lost. Time after time Granlund peered over the footlights at the audience. "Have you no homes?" he demanded finally. Hearty applause was his only reply. He shrugged his shoulders, smiled—and called on more stars. Small wonder that people outside were heard to offer ten dollars for a pair of tickets for last night's performance!

Coming Events

WILBUR THEATRE—Miss Alma Tell returns to Boston in the dramatization of "Main Street," Sinclair Lewis' famous novel, at the Wilbur, next Monday night.

TREMONT THEATRE—"Welcome Stranger," with George Sidney in the leading role, will be presented by Sam H. Harris as the next attraction at the Tremont Theatre, beginning Monday. The success of this attraction in both Chicago and New York formed the heartiest endorsement of its merits.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—A comedy of the past two seasons will be the attraction at the Hollis Street Theatre beginning next Monday, when there will be presented under the direction of George C. Tyler and H. H. Frazee, "Dulcy," by George S. Kaufman and Marc Connelly, in which Lynn Fontanne will be seen in the title role.

COLONIAL THEATRE—The third annual edition of the George White's "Scandals," with Ann Pennington as a feature will be the next attraction at the Colonial Theatre for a short stay beginning next Monday, March 20. This will be the first appearance of the present production in Boston, everything being entirely new and changed from his last season's offering.

'FOLLIES' AT SHUBERT A GOOD SHOW

Odd Scenery, Pretty Girls and Clever Acts Provide Snappy Entertainment

By FRED J. McISAAC,
Dramatic Editor.

The new "Greenwich Village Follies," which came to the Shubert last night, is an awfully good show. It travels along so fast that the few dry spots are past before they bore you, and there is lots of fun, noise, girls and beautiful and artistic features, too.

John Murray Anderson, who devised and staged the production, wrote some of the lyrics and planned the settings and costumes with Robert Locher, gets his effects in an entirely different way from Joseph Urban, who designs the "Ziegfeld Follies." Urban runs to gold and deep blues, brilliant lights, gorgeous and stunning effects. Murray's ideas are equally ingenious, apparently as expensive, but in much more subdued hues. His effects are exquisite in their refinement. His costumes are as fantastic as Urban's, but like his settings, in a softer and less garish vein.

NEW COMEDY TEAM.

Last year Savoy and Brennan supplied the laughter in the "Greenwich Village Follies." This year Joe E. Brown, the gentleman with the cavernous mouth, and Gordon Dooley supply the hilarity. This pair are about as rough as Savoy and Brennan, considerably less vulgar and a little more acrobatic. They are about equally funny.

Cecil Cunningham was injected into the cast just before the show came to Boston. This clever vaudeville performer has a beautiful voice and a gift for putting over character songs which is remarkable. She was one of the high spots in the show—no reference to her height being intended.

Bird Millman, that fairy of the tightrope, was another specialist whose feats upon the wire stopped the show for a few minutes. Ula Sharon, the dainty little toe dancer who made such a hit in last season's Greenwich show, has improved so tremendously that she has the distinction, also, of slowing up the rapidly moving entertainment by her long continued applause. And Ted Lewis, with his saxophone and his jazz band, is another riot.

STUNNING CHORUS.

In mentioning these people it sounds as though I were reviewing a vaudeville show, but there are half a dozen clever numbers done with the stage full of people, and the contingent of chorus girls is as pretty and unusual looking as ever.

We must not overlook the transformation scene, the invention of Nicholas de Lipsky. By the use of a lighting process, without lifting a bit of scenery, a ballroom interior is transformed into a garden scene, and the costumes of the performers changed in colors by the same manner.

I was glad to see that Anderson had saved one of the gems of "What's in a Name," an ill-fated production of his of two season ago, and used it in this show. This is the music box scene, a very clever feature with an exquisite melody, "A Young Man's Fancy" running through it, and a pretty ballet. Marjorie Burgess sang several songs very prettily and Jane Korle did the coloratura bit in this scene beautifully.

In looking back at the show I remember that it was as clean as a whistle, free from cheap features and full of numbers which were as artistic as they were popular.

ARLINGTON STOCK IN "HEART OF MARYLAND"

David Belasco's great war play, "The Heart of Maryland," received a hearty welcome last night at the Arlington Square Theatre where the piece was presented by the Arlington Square Stock Company.

Staged under the direction of Al Roberts, this absorbing love story of a Southern girl and a Northern soldier was finely acted by the capable players who have already become a fixture at this South End playhouse.

Florence Johns, in the leading role of Maryland Calvert, the part originally played by Mrs. Leslie Carter, won a well deserved triumph and in the sensational belfry scene evinced great emotional power. The remainder of the cast was equally effective.

GLOBE THEATRE — Another striking feature to be added to the program now running at Loew's Globe Theatre, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," will be the personal appearance at this theatre tonight of the two score or more movie stars, brought from New York by Marcus Loew to attend the opening of the new State Theatre last evening.

GORDON'S CENTRAL SQUARE—The leading roles portrayed by Elsie Ferguson and Wallace Reid in George Fitzmaurice's superb Paramount production of "Forever," a picturization of George Du Maurier's ed around Gilbert's aldermanic figured a profound impression at Gordon's Central Square Theatre.

BOSTON THEATRE — Dustin Farnum, in the first showing of his latest release, "Iron to Gold," is the feature at the Boston Theatre this week. The play fits the popular star most admirably, and is a fascinating thriller.

LANCASTER THEATRE — The new Rex Beach production, "The Iron Trail," shown at the Lancaster Theatre, is well worth seeing. It depicts the stirring action for which Rex Beach is famous. On the same program Elaine Hammerstein is seen in "The Way of a Maid."

NEW BEDFORD MILL WORKER IS SUICIDE

New Bedford, March 14.—Despondent because of ill health, Nicholas Plante, a mill worker, committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas fumes in the pantry of his home, at No. 1283 Acushnet avenue. The body was found by his wife, who had been awakened by the smell of gas, lying face down on the floor.

MOTION PICTURE NEWS

By FRIEDA DAVIS

ALMA RUBENS

FOR those who are partial to mystery stories—and who isn't at heart—the management at the Scollay Square Olympia offers no less of an attraction than the Cosmopolitan production "Find the Woman," featuring the dark-eyed Alma Rubens. "Find the Woman" has been written into screen continuity by Doty Hobart from the novel by Arthur Somers Roche, and has been directed by Tom Terriss.

It is a story of New York, of Broadway and Washington square, of the theatrical element, and of the district attorney's circle. Morris Biener, who combines the business of a theatrical agency with the more lucrative one of blackmailing, is found murdered in his office. Several clues point to one of the women, and meanwhile the audience is let into the secret that several others have grudges against Biener of sufficient cause to wish his death. The finger of suspicion points to each in turn. Eventually it develops—well, anyway, the murderer is found.

GIVEN NEW TWISTS.

There is nothing unusual in the story perhaps. After all, one murder story closely resembles another. It is up to the author to give it new twists. This is what Roche has tried to do. It is what Terriss, in turn, and the leading players have tried to do. If you want to see the results go to the Olympia.

Terriss has conceived a number of unusual scenes. There is one phase in particular that appeals in such a picture; the one in which we see a hand slipping cautiously around a half-opened door, in which we see the tip of a hat peeping from behind a curtain watching the trend of events, in which we see an unidentified arm raise a cane and strike Judge Walbrough a "knockout" blow. The lighting effects have been particularly well carried out in these instances.

Miss Rubens has the leading role in the film, and is supported by a remarkably able cast of players. She has the part of one of the dwellers of Washington square, on whom suspicion falls for some time. Strangely enough, considering the trend of the story, she had little opportunity for emotional acting. Rather, she was called upon to show restraint, which she did successfully.

DRAWN INTO NET.

Eileen Huban's role of Clancy Deane, alias Florine Ladue, had more possibilities than did Miss Rubens'. As a girl from Maine who had come to New York to seek fame and fortune behind the footlights, she was drawn into the net of events, and carried much of the action. With a naturally pleasing personality in her favor, and no little ability, she made an acceptable ingenue.

George MacQuarrie, famous for his work in Griffith pictures, has a prominent role, and one of a very different nature than those in which we usually see him. Harrison Ford had one of the leads, that of the young district attorney.

The continuity by Mr. Hobart seems to run to rather short scenes, though this may be due to the cutting of the finished film for purposes of program length. The sub-titles are to the point and not too numerous.

RURAL COMEDY OFFERING AT ST. JAMES

"The Detour" Given Excellent Production by Popular Stock Company

"The Detour," a rural comedy in three acts by Owen Davis, is being played in Boston for the first time by the Boston Stock Company at the St. James Theatre.

Opening last night, before an appreciative audience, the play promises to be a house-filler for the remainder of the week. Something different than the trite character of the usual so-called rural play, "The Detour" is acceptable, if for no other reason.

The story is centred around a domestic uprising in the home of Stephen Hardy, a Long Island farmer, whose only interest in life, according to his long-suffering wife and daughter, is his ambition for a larger farm.

To fulfill his ambition he has made life unbearable for the rest of his family. Comes a time when the mother's savings are to be spent for an "art education" in New York for her daughter. Art for a farmer's offspring is unthinkable in the eyes of Stephen Hardy and then comes a rebellion.

The unusual feature of the play comes in the fact that the daughter learns through a critic that, as an artist, she is a good "farmer's daughter." The illusion dispelled, affairs straighten themselves out and for once in a drama a promising kitchen drudge is saved from the "terrors of New York."

The play offers an exceptional opportunity for character acting on the part of Mark Kent, as the arrogant father and husband, and on the part of Viola Roach as his wife. Lucille Adams makes an admirable country daughter and Walter Gilbert, as usual, is well cast in the character of Tom Lane, her sweetheart.

'MONTE CRISTO' PRODUCED ON SCREEN

Thrills of Dumas' Famous Novel Retained in Tremont Temple Film

"Monte Cristo," a mighty avalanche of dramatic action, based on the world's most famous masterpiece of adventure, romance and thrills, by Alexander Dumas, had its initial appearance as a film at Tremont Temple last night, playing to a full house.

Revenge, the underlying theme of the picture, is the kind of revenge you can learn to like, the kind that you yourself want to take against a personal enemy. And with John Gilbert in the role of the Count of Monte Cristo, revenge is made all the more attractive. John Gilbert reminds you of Joseph Schildkraut, the star of "Liliom" and of "The Orphans of the Storm"—a man of suave, clean cut appearance, with a magnetic personality and a most charming disposition.

As Dantes, the man who innocently was imprisoned in the dungeon of the Chateau d'If for twenty years, he demands sympathy. As the Count, taking his title from the Isle of Monte Cristo, he is most charming. On the Isle of Monte Cristo was buried a treasure, and let it go at that. Upon gaining this treasure, with the aid of pirates who saved him from a watery grave when he made his escape from the dungeon in a sack, Dantes, assuming the name of Cristo, set out to avenge his innocence.

He returns to Paris, disguised by his wealth, succeeds in bringing disgrace to all those who were conspirators in his arrest. Estelle Taylor, as Mercedes, his sweetheart, who was betrayed into marriage with Fernand, an enemy of Dantes, is very sweet, and although she plays two parts does not star in either.

However, the picture is well worth seeing. If you liked Griffith's "The Orphans" you are sure to enjoy "Monte Cristo," since the two are somewhat similar, each having its central theme laid in Paris.

GAYETY THEATRE—Fat, funny Billy Gilbert, comedian of the "Step Lively Girls" burlesque company, has proved his claim to be the funniest roly-poly man on the stage. Yesterday this rotund fun-maker "Monte Cristo," a mighty avawent through scores of novel antics and sang scores of clever songs, keeping the theatre echoing with laughter. The show was constructed around Gilbert's aledrmanic figure and beaming smile. Practically all of the action depends upon the big fellow for its fun.

Plays That Remain

PARK THEATRE — "Foolish Wives," the big photoplay written, directed and acted in by Erich von Stroheim, continues breaking all attendance records at the Park Theatre the second week of its engagement began yesterday.

WILBUR THEATRE — "Liliom" began its last week at the Wilbur last night. Audience large and enthusiastic.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—George Arliss, in "The Green Goddess," at the Plymouth continues his highly successful run.

SELWYN THEATRE—Due to the popularity of the stars and the splendid interpretation of W. Somerset Maugham's witty comedy, there will be an extra matinee of "The Circle" at the Selwyn Theatre, today. Matinees will also be given tomorrow, Friday (St. Patrick's Day) and Saturday. The termination of this successful engagement will be Saturday night March 25.

TREMONT THEATRE — Lionel Atwill, in David Belasco's production of Sacha Guitry's comedy, "The Grand Duke," began his final week at the Tremont Theatre last evening. This comedy, by the famous French playwright-actor, is a delighting example of piquant comedy with a sparkle of wit in lines and a particular ingenuity in its situations.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE — The Irish Players from the Abbey Theatre, Dublin, appearing in Lennox Robinson's delightful comedy, "The White-Headed Boy," began the final week of their engagement at the Hollis Street Theatre last evening.

COLONIAL THEATRE — Fred Stone, in the musical extravaganza, "Tip-Top," began his concluding week at the Colonial Theatre last evening. Judging from the size of the audience it was the beginning of an engagement rather than its end.

MAJESTIC HAS PROGRAM TO PLEASE ALL

Alexander Carr Headliner in One-Act Comedy, "Toblitsky"

A varied bill greets the patron of the Majestic Theatre this week. It contains a little bit of everything in vaudeville, from juggling to an exhibition in Black Art. The latter, given by Joveddah De Rajah and Princess Olga, is one of the most entertaining numbers of the program.

Alexander Carr is the headline attraction in a one-act comedy, "Toblitsky, or the End of the World." Carr plays the role of Abraham Levy, who has two obsessions, opposition to his son's marriage and a profound belief in the writings of his favorite author, Toblitsky. The son and fiancee by a ruse win over the father and destroy his faith in Toblitsky. Brandon Peters and Lenore Masso are in the assisting roles.

El Brendal and Flo Bert returned to the Majestic this week in their "Funnyisms a la Swede." Others are Bobby O'Neill and company in "Four Queens and a Joker," Earnest Evans and Girls, Bernard and Townes, "General" Edward Lavine, Nip and Fletcher and the Flemings.

Other Theatres

ORPHEUM THEATRE—The first Boston screenings of William S. Hart, in his latest Paramount picture, "Travelin' On," are seen at the Orpheum this week. In this picture Mr. Hart gives his best demonstration of the character which he so often portrays and of which he is most famous. The story is a red-blooded, vivid and unusual one and many of the scenes are laid in realistic settings of the arid deserts of Arizona. The two score or more movie stars who came to Boston with Marcus Loew to attend the inaugural opening of the new State Theatre will appear in person at the Orpheum both this afternoon at 2:15 and tonight at 8.

MODERN AND BEACON—A new photoplay offering by Thomas H. Ince was shown at the Modern and Beacon theatres for the first time in Boston yesterday. It is his latest, "Hail the Woman." While the story of the photoplay is particularly rich in romance and highly developed dramatic incident it also forms a mental stimulant which has for its purpose the aiding of women's claims for equal social recognition.

GORDON'S OLYMPIA—"The Little Cottage," an entrancing musical comedy of the abbreviated variety, was the headline attraction on a wonderfully interesting vaudeville program at Gordon's Olympia Theatre yesterday. This delightful offering is the creation of George Choos, noted producer of vaudeville successes, and it was presented by a large cast, including Frank Sinclair, Cliff Dixon, and Mary Collins. A novel act showing how musical records are made was given by Frank Richardson & Company.

OLD SOUTH THEATRE — The motion picture is just commencing to find its sphere of entertainment. When producers can create pictures like the ebullient "Penrod," Marshall Neilan's First National attraction that opened a week's run at Gordon's Old South Theatre yesterday, it can be said that the screen is fulfilling its mission of 100 per cent entertainment. Neilan has caught the spirit of Booth Tarkington's inimitable characters of American boyhood and impressed them upon the screen for all eternity.

GORDON'S STRAND — Revealing a society marital mixup of exceptional interest, Cecil B. De Mille's picture, "Saturday Night," was shown with great success at Gordon's Strand Theatre. The theme, which proves that men and women who marry outside their own environment frequently find time to repent of their rashness, was admirably presented.

SOMERVILLE PLAYERS — "My Irish Cinderella," a drama in four acts, presented by the Somerville players at their popular Davis square playhouse, proved again that this aggregation possesses ability and versatility which is unusual. The play, which presents in graphic detail the trials and tribulations of a little Irish girl forced to combat English snobbery, bears in many respects a striking similarity to that ever favorite "Peg O' My Heart." The scenes, which are very well set, are laid in England and New York.

KEITH'S BILL FULL OF CLEVER ACTS

Topline honors at B. F. Keith's Theatre this week are difficult to choose, so many acts there are that merit particular notice.

But when the palms are being handed around, Crane Wilbur and Martha Mansfield have a burlesque on the sedate court room that evokes much laughter, and they must not be forgotten.

A variety bill it is, with funny dogs, clever dancing men and women, musical numbers and a woman who stays in the water longer than time itself.

Then Guy Voyer has a comical sketch, called "Marry Me," and he causes many chuckles. The Elwell Sisters help materially by their dancing.

Charles Olcott and Mary Ann have some original songs; the Beaumont Sisters show how they entertained a score of years ago. Dave Seed and Ralph Austin are there; and for smart stepping, Wells, Virginia and West are different. Jack Osterman and Mons, and Mme. Alf W. Loyal's dogs complete the bill, with the news weekly film and funny reel.

WALDRON'S CASINO — Harry Hasting's big burlesque review, "Knick Knacks," with the famous "wise boob comedian," Tom Howard, leading the company, furnished the burlesque part of the continuous performances at Waldron's Casino yesterday. Tom Howard has well earned his title as one of the funniest comedians in burlesque. Supporting him and serving as an admirable foil was Irene Leary, a strikingly beautiful prima donna. Others in the cast are Phil Peters, the Three Syncopaters, Maurice Cole and Helen Fordyce.

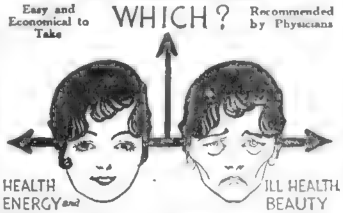
Easy and Economical to Take

Recommended by Physicians



Why not have the beautiful, clear youthful skin, smooth, firm flesh and the fascinating charm and magnetism of a well-formed figure instead of being thin and undeveloped with ugly skin, flabby flesh, sunken cheeks and scrawny neck, which makes you look years older? Start today to see for yourself the amazing transformation that often takes place in an unusually short time once the system is supplied with the health-building, vitalizing elements supplied in MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS.

So quick and remarkable is the action of MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS that thousands of thin, underweight men and women everywhere, who were in hopeless despair of ever becoming strong and properly developed are now taking [illegible] way to increase weight and energy, clear skin and put on firm, good, [illegible] flesh.

MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS contain not only the all important vitamines but also true organic iron and real lime salts which [illegible] says constitute the necessary tissue, blood and bone-making elements your system must have to enable it to build up a well-proportioned body, clear, glowing skin and increased nerve force.

By mixing with your food MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS supply the needed nourishment so often lost in the cooking or preparation of your everyday food and the lack of which is probably keeping you thin, narrow chested with [illegible] sunken cheeks and your whole body lacking in energy and strength.

Here is a simple test which will show you what MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS may do for you. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Next take MASTIN'S VITAMON two tablets with every meal. Then weigh and measure yourself again and continue taking MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS regularly until you are fully satisfied with your gain in weight, "pep" and improved appearance.

MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS do not upset the stomach or cause that bloated feeling, but on the contrary are a great aid in correcting indigestion and improving the appetite.

WARNING: For your own protection and safety you must say MASTIN'S to get the Original and Genuine VITAMON Tablets, recommended by physicians and used by millions for firm flesh and clear skin. Beware of imitations, cheap substitutes and so-called "yeast vitamine" tablets. You can get MASTIN'S VITAMON TABLETS at all good druggists, such as Houghton & Dutton, Epstein's, [illegible] ker Rintel's, Macy's 3 Stores, Armstrong's 4 Stores, Liggett's, The Shepard Drug Stores.

BRAVES THINK MARQUARD SHOWS TRUE PENCHANT TO JOIN ANOTHER PENNANT WINNING CLUB

BRAVES' MANAGER SEES BRIGHT PROSPECTS IN TWO ROOKIES

By NICK FLATLEY

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 14.—Crash of bat and ball now rivals the [illegible] of horseshoe as St. Pete's biggest noise. This has finally become a real baseball camp, not merely a school for baby pitchers. Our Braves are going through a pair of [illegible] seances daily, and if they don't emerge in the silk of condition there's nothing at all to this heat [illegible].

[illegible] the few [illegible] of the Braves have got the [illegible] working [illegible] before the next [illegible] of weeks [illegible]. This is [illegible] the theory of [illegible] Spring [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] their [illegible] car shape.

* * *

That's the theory, and a good one. Making it work in actual practice is something else again. Some teams do it each year, and consequently open up like a new training camp. Others get too much or too little of the preliminary stuff and have to stagger through a month or so of the season before hitting the normal speed.

* * *

[illegible]

A week of that sort of work would turn a steam roller into a racing car. If the pace gets too fast Manager Fred will slow things up a bit after the scrub games start.

[illegible]

* * *

The infield lined up with Holke on first, Ford at second, Kopf short and Putnam, third. Neither Barbare nor Boeckel reported in time for workouts. Putnam went along very smoothly with the varsity performers and then kept on the job while some of the youngsters did a bit of work.

* * *

[illegible]

* * *

Boxton was the only casualty, stopping a hard line drive from Al Nixon's bludgeon with one of his shins. He limped sorrowfully off the field for first aid treatment. The day's work consisted of a long batting jamboree, and the field we have mentioned in both sessions.

* * *

[illegible]

* * *

"You can't tell much," he summed up after the bases had been closed off the back field, "on one day's practice. But I can see that a couple of the young fellows look as if they might develop into ball players and a couple more as if they didn't know what it was all about. By the end of the week though we'll be pretty well convinced about the ability of the newcomers. One thing I sure have enough players running around loose here."

WALTER JOHNSON TO GO BACK TO UNDERHAND DELIVERY THIS YEAR

By DAVIS J. WALSH

Tampa, Fla., March 14.—The class today will kind [illegible] the Sears Roebuck [illegible]

[illegible]

* * *

"Yes sir," quoth Griffith in conversation with the writer. "Very few men know it, but Johnson always delivered the ball from below his knee, except," he amended hastily, "last season. It was perhaps the worst he has had in the big leagues and I know the answer. He was throwing them up from the shoulder, which was not his natural delivery. Therefore, his fast one lost the old zip.

* * *

[illegible] at [illegible] He was [illegible] that year and last [illegible] pitching overhand [illegible] to the snap of the side arm.

"Late in the season he returned to the old style and he was beating them all. Make no mistake—Johnson will be there this year. He is only thirty-four years old and everyone knows how long Cy Young and Matty lasted. They did not take any better care of themselves than Walter does."

[illegible] great [illegible] a possible [illegible] is the best [illegible] two [illegible]

The lack of a good shortstop was the only thing that kept Griffith from finishing one-two-three last year. He doesn't mean to have it happen again. He had the speed with such men as Rice, Judge, Milan and Harris burning up the right of way.

The club hit with the best of them, and the pitchers did well enough, particularly Mogridge, who developed into one of the best left handers in the league. The ball games bade good night to Griffith through the left side of his infield.

TWO BIG SCHOLASTIC EVENTS THIS WEEK

By FRED C. LANE

The Interscholastic baseball tournament, fostered by Tufts College at Goddard gymnasium on Friday and Saturday, will conflict with the District High School meet at the East Armory.

These are the leading schoolboy events of the week and [illegible] be well attended by [illegible] of both sports. [illegible] though basketball [illegible] ing [illegible] schools [illegible] high [illegible]

* * *

Judging from the elimination series that has been going on the past month, Crosby High and Naugatuck High of the Nutmeg State have the class.

* * *

Last week Coach Taylor of Crosby High journeyed to [illegible] of Pennsylvania's tournament. This team won first honors from the leading schools of that section. Previous to that they defeated the Naugatuck High by a close score.

There is doubt that Winthrop or Brockton High [illegible] to set back the Rhode Islanders.

Dedham High, with [illegible] consecutive victories, is a strong candidate from this vicinity. The new court at the Tufts gym will [illegible] the Dedham boys, as the majority of their games were won on foreign floors.

* * *

The remaining days of this week will be busy for the Boston High School track athletes. The field events, which will take place today and continue until Thursday, will find the gymnasium of Commerce, English and Trade Schools busy spots.

In the trials of the field events [illegible] Boston and district [illegible] will take part [illegible] at the [illegible] of March [illegible] best [illegible]

The high jump will be held at Trade School, broad jump at Commerce and the shot put at the English High gymnasium.

The favos promise to surpass the [illegible] [illegible] East Boston High School because of its strength in the senior and intermediate divisions is looked upon to win.

* * *

Many pick the Noddle Island athletes to triumph over English and Commerce High in the regimental games that take place a week later. Not in years has East Boston been represented on the track with such a strong team. When Ralph Colson ceased to compete for that school the chances of their forging to the front looked dubious.

* * *

Coach Fred O'Brien has stood firm by his pre-season predictions, and many of his prophecies have proved true this year.

* * *

Coach Mansfield of Medford High, who has been working his battery candidates in the gymnasium, is all set to start his campaign for Suburban League honors.

GREB HANDS GIBBONS REAL LACING IN NEAR TITLE BOUT

By TOM THORPE

New York, March 14—Harry G[illegible] light heavyweight A[illegible] 15 years.

[illegible]

However a few seconds later he reached Greb's body with a left hook. This he followed with right to the stomach. This latter blow appeared to slow Greb up a trifle. This was noticeable when he began holding.

* * *

[illegible]

The fight was witnessed by one of the most representative gatherings in ring history. Society, Wall Street, Broadway and the East Side rubbed elbows with one another as only fight fans will do. It was announced by the management that 13,400 persons had contributed the record sum of $117,500 as gate receipts.

* * *

This will increase the Milk Fund of the Mayor's Committee of Wo[illegible] thousands of poor children of New York [illegible]

However, in the fifth Gibbons sunk in a couple of right hooks to the body that slowed Greb up a trifle. A right hand to the face staggered Greb, but only for a moment. He came right back with a left hook to the body.

* * *

[illegible]

However the latter had all of the earmarks of a scrapper. It was noticable that he never looked at Tom during the time the picture men were photographing them in a neutral corner before the beginning of hostilities.

* * *

[illegible]

As in the other instances, Gibbons once again failed to follow up his advantage. To those at the ring side it looked as if all he had to do to win the battle by a knockout was to uncork a right or left punch.

* * *

[illegible]

As they met in the centre of the ring, Gibbons interposed an objection to the manner that Greb had his trunks pulled up under his arms. Referee Kid McPartland ordered the Pittsburgh scrapper to lower his waist band. Little time was lost in giving the fighters final instructions.

During my several years of Base Ball here in Boston I have used Hathaway's Vitamine Bread and personally think it is a real "Home Run" in so far as a real body builder is concerned. I have often carried it on the road when convenient and heartily recommend it as a bread of unusual strength building qualities.

FINANCE and BUSINESS

—By B. C. Forbes—

New York, March 14.—Because it is the world's principal gold producing centre, the financial world is intensely interested in the attempted revolution in the Transvaal, South Africa.

The question everywhere asked is—Will the attempted revolution succeed?

I do not believe it will.

* * *

True, the gold fields have for years attracted a great many adventurers from all corners of the earth. There are many specimens of the Lenin and Trotzky variety among them. Not a few of these adventurers would rejoice in a bloody revolution because of the opportunities it might offer for loot and perhaps for political power under a new order.

* * *

Moreover, the majority of the men who work in and on the mines are a dare-devil lot. Most of them are unmarried. Their living conditions are not particularly conducive to domestic happiness, stability and tranquility. There are any number of rovers among them.

Also the mine owners have never succeeded in getting very close to their work people. In the days when I lived in Johannesburg and knew well both the mining element and the mine owners, little effort was ever made by the employers to win the loyalty, the good-will, the affection of their employes.

The situation as reported by cable has been greatly aggravated by the formation of commands of armed Boers. This invests the position with a gravity it would not otherwise contain. Indeed, it is the most disquieting feature of the outbreak.

* * *

That blood has flown freely is not astonishing when it is recognized that it is easy for the mining fraternity to acquire firearms and ammunition and to lay in supplies of dynamite, bombs, etc. Also, as already said, the spirit of daredevilism is rampant and life is held not very dearly.

* * *

Notwithstanding all this, and notwithstanding the support the rioters or revolutionaries, whichever may be the more accurate description, are receiving from the Boers, I believe the chances all are that the malcontents will be defeated and order restored without any change whatever in the present form of governments.

* * *

The neighboring state of Natal is distinctly pro-British, and has already sent troops to the scene. Troops from other parts of the country are also being hastened to Johannesburg, and it is significant that volunteers are enrolling in large numbers at Pretoria, the political capital of the Transvaal and formerly the great stronghold of President Kruger.

* * *

Then the mining interests and the business interests are doubtless co-operating closely with each other and with the governmental authorities. In the large city of Johannesburg the number of Boers and Boer sympathizers is not large. Any thought of restoring the Boer government is out of the question. Apparently the object of the rebels is the formation of a Soviet regime. In view of what has occurred in Russia it is hardly likely that any such movement will receive the backing of a majority of the Transvaal or other South African citizens.

* * *

Premier Jan Smuts, who has arrived at the scene of the trouble, has won the high regard alike of the British element in South Africa and all but the "irreconcilables" among the Boers. His presence will stimulate and strengthen the authorities and may even have a somewhat sobering effect upon at least a section of those who have been induced to join the trouble.

* * *

The cables have told us all too little about the attitude of the many thousands of negro workers at the mines. So far as one can gather, the natives are disposed to remain quiet when left alone, but ready to hit back as best they can when subjected to rough usage by the strikers.

* * *

In those days when revolt is so rampant in different parts of the world, including, more particularly, India, Egypt and Ireland, it may be rather risky to hazard a prediction that the South African upheaval is likely to be suppressed and to blow over rather quickly. Yet that is the view which my analysis of the situation prompts me to take.

GOOD MEALS ON THE GREAT NORTHERN ROAD

Boston people who have toured the West this Winter, particularly those who have traveled on the Great Northern Railway's "Oriental Limited" and "Glacier Park Limited," are bringing back stories of many evidences of reduced cost of living and, particularly, the moderate price of food to be obtained on the trains. A Boston man who had been out to such Northern Pacific Coast points as Tacoma, Seattle and Portland called attention to the chicken and steak dinners to be obtained on the Great Northern limited trains for the small sum of $1.50. The meals, he felt, compared favorably with those served in first-class restaurants and at a price much less. Of course, the service and cuisine are of the very highest type. Substantial reductions have also been made in the a la carte service and through the inauguration of special club breakfasts ranging from 30 cents to 90 cents.

RAILWAYS AND SUGARS RISE IN NEW YORK

Gains General Throughout List; Advances Range From Fractions to About 5 Points

By W. H. ROSS
Financial Editor

The New York market had a strong close after showing an upward trend from the start, barring brief spells of profit taking. Many stocks sold at their highest for the day in the last hour of active trading. Transactions approximated 900,000 shares.

Among issues which figured prominently in the rise were Studebaker preferred, Brooklyn Union Gas and Consolidated Gas. Ann Arbor, preferred was noticeable for gains among secondary rails. Sugars were a strong group, especially Cuba Cane, Cuban American and Punta Alegre.

Gains at the end ranged from fractions to about five points.

Gains constituted the majority of changes at the opening and, after a faint reaction due to realization sales, the market had a strong tone during the remainder of the forenoon, advances ranging from fractions to more than two points. Trading broadened, embracing a number of issues which are ordinarily inactive.

In a midday reaction Market Street Railway preferred dropped six points and equipments became heavy. Rails were the feature of an afternoon rally under the leadership of Northern Pacific, New York Central, Great Northern and Reading. New York gas issues were among the strongest. U. S. Cast Iron Pipe climbed more than four points. New record highs were reached by American Ice and Computing and Tabulating. Highs for this or last year were reached by many issues.

Call money opened at 4 per cent. There was no sign of any monetary strain, although tomorrow is the day for payment of the first installment on 1921 income taxes and United States Treasury withdrawals from New York district banks will approximate $78,000,000. Foreign exchange weakened. Marks at .0036⅜ were only .0003¼ above the record low reached in November last.

Stock Market Shows Broadening Tendency

By W. S. COUSINS

Copyright, 1922, Cosmopolitan News Service.

New York, March 14.—While holding its lead in the active stocks that have been moving forward at mostly interrupted progress for nearly a month, the stock market today gave evidence of its ability to broaden out and to include within the scope of its operations many of the inactive specialties that have not heretofore been mentioned.

Since the slump which carried its price from par to less than 30, American International Corporation has been a steady ground gainer, and at 45 it is now at the highest price for the year. The forthcoming annual report will show a slight profit after the most rigid adjustment of its balance sheets. At the end of 1921 the company charged off $6,000,000 to surplus against losses on accounts receivable and inventories, and about $2,500,000 for depreciation of investments. Reflecting the semi-paralysis of industrials in the early part of 1921, the sales of the corporation fell off to about $25,000,000, as compared to about $80,000,000 in 1920.

New York, March 14.—Investment bankers and banking syndicates are taking advantage of the receptive condition of the bond market to introduce a number of new issues which have resulted from recent negotiations. The new list is wide and comprehensive, but public utility, municipal and foreign government bonds seem to predominate. Every desirable issue is snapped up with avidity, the new Franco-American issue of $10,000,000 7½ per cent. having been eight times oversubscribed.

Before the opening of the books for subscription to the new $45,000,000 Sinclair Oil Company 15-year 7 per cent. bonds at 90 today bids had been received for $20,000,000 in excess of that offering. Many of the investment houses which failed to secure a sufficient allotment to fill the orders of their own customers were actively bidding for the bonds in the open market after the formal allotment had been made. The subscription books were closed almost immediately.

The listed bond department was strong and irregular today, though considerable activity developed in the outside market and in the bidding for the new issues brought out by the banking syndicates. Liberty Bonds were steady at prevailing prices.

The United Kingdom 5½s on the stiffening of sterling exchange gained 1⅛ to 104 and the Swedish 6s were strong. Other foreign bonds sold off fractionally. Public utilities and railroad issues reflected the more substantial financial outlook for the companies concerned.

New York Curb Becomes Buoyant

By Cosmopolitan News Service.

New York, March 14.—In late trading the New York Curb market developed buoyancy, with declining strength in some of the more important issues. Trading was fairly well distributed, however. At times some irregularity developed among the specialties, which were later followed by good rallies.

Cities Service common was one of the outstanding features, continuing its upward movement and touching a new high for the year at 201.

British American was slightly more active within narrow limits. Amalgamated Leather, after a good upturn, became heavy on realization.

Vulcano was in good demand at a further slight upturn due to reports of a new strike of high grade ore.

FRAMERICAN LOAN OPENS UP FIELD

U. S. Should Discriminate Between Governments and Private Undertakings

By C. B. EVANS.

Chicago, March 14.—The banker sits behind his desk, and you notice that eyes bulge peculiarly, so much indeed that there is real danger that he will knock the glasses off his nose. The provocation was a sale of two bond issues Monday; the Framerican Industrial Development Corporation twenty-year 7½ per cent. debentures, and the 7's of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation, which has steered itself up to the bank manager so often.

This is the provocation, but not the reason for the banker's astonishment. That reason is found in the greatest reversal of financial conditions that have ever occurred in history, so much greater than any other as to be out of comparison.

This banker was a severe sort of fellow a year ago, two years ago, when merchants, speculators and farmers were climbing giddy ladders and thought they were soaring on the wings of prosperity. He made them come down out of that, liquidate, get some sense somewhere. The liquidation, so far as concerns the biggest units of business, has been practically completed and in so short a time that if it had been predicted to the bankers two years ago they would have made a face at you.

SHOW STRONG IN CASH.

It is noted by one who has been in the midst of these things that the annual reports now coming out, showing enormous losses, disclose a strong cash position. "Come, let us be poor," said these corporations to each other and they proceeded to mark down, but also to conserve cash.

They are smaller than they once were, but it is because they have let a lot of collicky wind out of their stomachs. It is a marvelous transformation, but the companies, and by so much the rest of us, have something like solid ground to stand on and an athletic condition which will enable them to go forward to future activities in fighting trim.

It has been wickedly suggested by some persons that certain corporations have made a poor showing with their Federal tax liability in view, and possibly that has been done in some instances, but if so the ferret will find that out, indeed will find a lot of things which do not exist. The Framerican loan brings up the question of the extent to which we should continue to furnish capital to other countries.

LOANS FOR SOUTH AMERICA.

There is no doubt as to the advisability of a loan to a concern backed by Schneider and Company, one of the best known in the manufacture of machinery in the world. It is only surprising that the borrowers should be obliged to sell on so high a rate as 7.60 but the Framerican is so profoundly impressed with the war damage to Europe that he insists on a liberal interest.

From the viewpoint of France one might remark that that country has placed a lot of its own funds in Russia and lost and when prosperity comes to it again the French might reasonably entertain the subject of investing here and winning.

More foreign loans are to be submitted to our people in the near future and if we only stick to good private undertakings and severely cut off all European governments as borrowers, we shall show a reasonable discrimination. To South American governments we may lend knowing that thus we shall be promoting our own trade interests.

Doubtless the next important thing will be a call from that part of the world for American money. One may say without much qualification that the South American countries are creators and the European countries destroyers, and we do not wish to invest any more money in destruction.

But the impressive thing is that we can repair not only ourselves but that in so short a time. We are in the main furnishing the quick capital of the world, and the reason for it is first in the great resources that nature has given us; and, second, in the wisdom and efficiency of our bankers, who when speculative manufacturers and merchants were rushing through the fog of 1919 and 1920 to the edge of a precipice threw the lariat over them and brought them to a halt, then told them what they had got to do.

EDISON SOARS ON BOSTON EXCHANGE

Local Market Quiet and Narrow; Curb Trading More Active and Trend Is Upward

The Boston market was irregular from the opening until noon and at the end of the morning about half of the active issues were quoted unchanged. Trading was quite narrow as the price range. American Telephone continued its ascent, selling at 124⅝ in the morning, which is the highest for five years. Edison was a feature, advancing 6¼ to 169, its highest since 1920. It was unusually active for this issue. Punta Alegre attained a new high for 1922 to date. Packing issues were strong, rails heavy and coppers irregular. One or two point losses were shown by Boston & Maine, Maine Central, Massachusetts Gas, Amoskeag and St. Mary's Land.

CURB MORE ACTIVE

The Curb was a little more active than it has been of late and had a good tone. Leaders were Boston & Montana, Eureka, Mutual, Three Metals and Verde Mines. At noon gains included Boston & Montana 3 cents at 50 cents, Eureka 1 cent at 25 cents, Mutual 2 cents at 36 cents, Three Metals 1 cent at 86 cents, Verde Mines 3 cents at 26 cents, and Verde Central ¼ at 4¾. Among declines were Bagdad 2 cents at 24 cents and United Verde Extension ¼ at 27½.

Gold and Silver Prices

Bar gold was up 1d at 94s 9d an ounce in London today, while silver receded ⅛d to 33⅛d an ounce.

New York, March 8, 1922.

To the Holders of

THE NEW YORK, NEW HAVEN AND HARTFORD RAILROAD COMPANY FOUR PER CENT. DEBENTURES DUE APRIL 1, 1922 (issued in exchange for Franc Debentures of the Four Per Cent. Fifteen Year European Loan of 1907 of the Company).

There are now outstanding $14,118,000, principal amount, of the above Debentures maturing April 1, 1922. These Dollar Debentures were issued in exchange for Debentures of the Four Per Cent. Fifteen Year European Loan of 1907 of the Company. Franc Debentures of said Loan to the principal amount of Fcs. 69,762,500 are also outstanding, payable in France and other currencies, including Pounds Sterling of Great Britain at the rate of £19-15s.-6d. for each Fcs. 500 Debenture. The company will not be able to pay these Dollar and Franc Debentures at maturity, because under prevailing conditions the Company is unable to dispose of its Mortgage Bonds which are reserved to refund the above Debentures under its First and Refunding Mortgage dated December 9, 1920, to Bankers Trust Company, Trustee, and no other method of financing is available. The Plan hereinafter described for part payment and extension of the balance for three years at seven per cent. is therefore proposed by the Board of Directors.

When the Plan becomes operative Debenture holders will be paid ten per cent. of the principal amount of their Debentures in cash and payment of ninety per cent. of the principal amount will be extended until April 1, 1925, with interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum. Interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum will be paid upon the cash payment from April 1, 1922, to the date on which such payment shall become payable to depositing Debenture holders. The United States Government has agreed to loan to the Company the amount of cash necessary to make the ten per cent. cash payment. The lien of the First and Refunding Mortgage as security for these Debentures will remain unimpaired.

Debenture holders are urged to deposit their Debentures as promptly as possible, and in any case on or before March 27, 1922, with Bankers Trust Company as Depositary under an Agreement dated March 8, 1922, copies of which may be obtained from the Company or from the Depositary. The plan can only become operative if with substantial unanimity the holders of the Dollar Debentures and the holders of the Franc Debentures, to whom an offer of extension is also being made, deposit their Debentures on or before March 27, 1922, or such later date as may from time to time be fixed by the Company. The extended ninety per cent. of the Franc Debentures will be payable, at the option of the holders, in dollars in New York, viz., $86.85 per Fcs. 450. The Depositary will issue negotiable Certificates of Deposit for Debentures deposited. All Debentures deposited must be in negotiable form. The April 1, 1922, coupon should be detached, and may be collected in the usual manner.

The Company may abandon the Plan at any time, and if the Plan is not declared operative on or before July 1, 1922, or such later date as may be fixed by the Company with the approval of Bankers Trust Company, the Depositary, depositing Debenture holders shall be entitled to the return of their Debentures free of charge.

As soon as possible after the Plan has been declared operative the cash payment of ten per cent. will be made and the deposited Debentures will be returned (against the surrender of Certificates of Deposit) appropriately stamped to show the payment of ten per cent. of the principal amount and the extension of the remaining ninety per cent. to April 1, 1925. New coupon sheets representing interest at seven per cent. during the period of extension will be attached to the Debentures.

It seems clearly in the interest of the holders of maturing Debentures to accept this extension, under which they will receive payment of ten per cent. of the principal amount of their Debentures and an extension of the remaining ninety per cent. of the principal amount at an attractive rate of interest. The inevitable result of the failure of this Plan is a receivership for the Company, which would entail delay and the possibility of loss to the Debenture holders. On the other hand, if the Plan of Extension becomes operative, the Board of Directors believe that within the period of the extension the Company will be able to restore its credit and take care of these Debentures at maturity. The operating ratio which prior to the war enabled the Company to meet all obligations is gradually approaching its pre-war percentage. This has been accomplished by a reduction of operating expenses and by a more efficient operation. Since 1915 the Company has expended $56,000,000 for new locomotives, passenger and freight cars, modern classification yards and additional tracks and sidings. A part of these funds were obtained from the United States Government, which for this and other purposes has loaned the Company substantially $80,000,000. The Company is in a position when business shall return to normal to operate more efficiently and economically than ever before. It has reason to expect that its earnings will still further increase and its expenses still further decrease. The decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission increasing the divisions of joint rates should give the New Haven System increased earnings upon the prospective traffic of the year of approximately $3,500,000.

ALL THE FAMILY MAY JOIN IN FAMOUS TITLES TEST

This is the twelfth day of the Boston American's $5,000 Famous Titles Picture Test, a competition of skill and ingenuity open to every reader of this newspaper.

The Boston American is printing 60 Test drawings, in manner like that which is printed today, and invites its readers to see if they can find and write the Correct Titles.

To those who, at the close of this fascinating entertainment, send in the largest numbers of Correct Titles, this newspaper will pay 219 awards in cash, as follows:

First Award	$1,000
Second Award	750
Third Award	600
Fourth Award	400
Fifth Award	300
Sixth Award	200
Seventh Award	150
Eighth Award	100
Ninth Award	50
100 Awards of $10 Each	1,000
110 Awards of $5 Each	550
Total	$5,000

YOU WRITE TITLES.

Every member of the family may participate in this alluring picture game, and each may send in an individual set of answers at the close of the Test.

The Test artist has drawn 60 pictures, each illustrating a famous title. We present these pictures without their titles. YOU are to write the titles.

In order that you may not be entirely without a clew or a suggestion, the Correct Title is printed daily in a List of Titles which will be found on the same page as (and usually in close proximity to) the Test Drawing.

Look at today's drawing. Take today's List of Titles. In this list will be found one title which fits the picture better than any other title in the list. Other titles may appear to fit the picture. The Correct Title fits it best. This will be true every day.

CUT OUT PICTURES.

If you are only today making up your mind to enter the Test and compete for the $1,000, or any other award, all you need to do is cut out and preserve today's picture. Hold it until the close of the Test, when your entire set of pictures must be sent in at one time. It will be well to cut and preserve the List of Titles, too. You may want to refer back to it in connection with today's picture. The List of Titles is NOT to be sent in at the close of the Test.

To join the Famous Titles Test, all that is necessary is that you begin cutting out the pictures and writing titles. You do not need to notify the Boston American. Enrolment is unnecessary. There is no call for registration. Begin!

Back numbers of the pictures are not immediately available. About halfway through the Test the Test Editor hopes to be supplied with them. He can promise nobody a complete set, or any great number of pictures, but he will do his best to supply the participant who begins today.

There are two things that every participant in this Test should do immediately.

READ THE RULES.

The first is to read the Rules of the Test.

The second is to place a standing order for the Boston American with your regular newsdealer.

While he likes to write letters, and is happiest when he can be of service to contestants, the Test Editor does not like to write unnecessary letters. Fully one third of all the letters that come to him never would be written if the contestant first would read the rules.

No person likes to enter upon a contest of this kind and, having followed it thus far, find that he has asked for his Boston American after the dealer is "all sold out."

You want to be sure of your paper every day. You want it while it is new. Save yourself a lot of bother, and some expense, by telling Mr. Newsdealer today that you are following the Famous Titles Picture Test and MUST have the Boston American regularly. If there is no obliging newsdealer close at hand you can have the paper sent to you direct from this office. Participants who run into the "all sold out" complaint will confer a favor by notifying the Test Editor, 80 Summer street, Boston 8, Mass. Please give the newsdealer's name and say at what hour he was "all sold out." No contestant can be more desirous of getting the paper when he wants it than the Boston American is to have it there.

IN THURSDAY'S PAPER.

The story of the recent $5,000 Book Title Picture Test will be told in detail in these columns on Thursday of this week, the day after tomorrow.

Thursday's Boston American will give the names and addresses of the 219 prize winners. The report will include pictures of and brief interviews with the leaders. Everybody who took part in the Book Test will want to know on which pictures the leaders fell down. Lists of these errors will form one of the most interesting features of the story. Make sure of Thursday's paper.

Tomorrow's Test Drawing will be No. 13, sometimes an unlucky number.

Rules of the Titles Test

The Boston American Famous Titles Test is a test of skill and judgment open to all readers of the Boston American, irrespective of age, living in any city or town in New England or Canada.

Two hundred and nineteen cash awards will be given by this newspaper to its readers who submit the largest percentage of correct titles to the sixty pictures to be published one each day for sixty days consecutively (Sundays excepted) in the Boston American.

All employes of the Boston American and their families are absolutely barred from participating in the awards.

The test will consist of sixty pictures, each representing a famous title, to be printed, one each day, in the Boston American, the first picture on Wednesday, March 1, 1922.

Participating in any other contest which has been run, which is now running or which may be run by the Boston American will not debar anyone from entering this test.

Every participant or any or all members of a family will be allowed to submit one set of pictures but each set must contain only ONE TITLE to each picture, and no participant shall be entitled to more than one award and not more than one award shall be given in any one family.

Each and every title must be written or printed on the coupon furnished by the Boston American, or on a page of some book form of itself, accompanied by the picture furnished by the Boston American, or a pen or pencil copy thereof, and must have the name, residence, etc., of the participant on each title blank.

Do not send your titles in "list" form, that is, do not write titles under one another on a piece of paper.

In case there are no complete sets of correct titles, awards will be given to the person submitting the nearest correct solutions, giving weight to skill and judgment.

In case of a tie awards will be made on the basis of neatness, judgment and exact accuracy, but if the tie cannot be decided in that way the tied participants will receive similar awards.

Under no circumstances should participants send in their titles before the end of the Test, as any sent in before the last picture is printed will not be considered. KEEP your titles from day to day and at the end of the Test arrange them in numerical order and then send them in all together at one time.

Time will not be a factor in making the awards. The first titles sent in after the Test closes will stand no better than the last submitted.

All titles must be delivered to the Boston American title headquarters, at No. 80 Summer street, Boston 8, Mass., within the specified time limit which will be announced later.

All envelopes or packages containing titles must be legibly addressed as follows: "Famous Titles Test Editor, No. 80 Summer street, Boston 8, Mass., P. O. Box 289," and each envelope or package must bear the name and address of the sender legibly written or stamped on the upper left-hand corner.

As all pictures in the Test will contain written or printed matter, if mailed, it is absolutely necessary that the packages be fully prepaid at postal rates, as mail of this character goes to the postoffice as first-class matter. The Boston American reserves the right to refuse to consider any sets of titles on which charges for postal delivery are not fully prepaid.

There will be no title or answer book to buy. Lists of Famous Titles will be printed in the Boston American. The list appearing will contain, among others, the correct title.

Participants who desire further information should address their inquiries to the Famous Titles Editor, No. 80 Summer street, Boston 8, Mass. Questions will be answered as far as possible through the columns of the Boston American. If participants desire personal replies they should enclose stamped and self-addressed envelopes.

The Boston American reserves the right to make any change in or addition to these conditions that it may deem necessary for fairly and properly conducting the Test, and the decision of the Boston American Test Editor on any question which may arise will be absolutely final and the entry of a participant is a complete acceptance of all conditions and regulations now made or to be made.

JEWISH RELIEF IS CERTAIN OF $17,000,000

New York, March 14.—Actual cash and pledges totaling $14,009,624.19 in hand, and a total of $17,310,000 assured by April 1, is the record of the national campaign for $14,000,000 for relief of Jewish war, pogrom and famine sufferers in Eastern Europe, National Chairman David A. Brown announced in a preliminary report. Eight of the forty-eight states are still to complete their campaign. Over $1,000,000 was given by non-Jews, Mr. Brown said, in this enterprise which surpasses any humanitarian effort by the Jews of America.

"This result," says Mr. Brown in summing up, "is surely a wonderful demonstration of human sympathy of which Americans and American Jews in particular may well feel proud, especially as it came at a time of acute economic depression, following a period of unexampled expansion and prosperity."

'DEARIE' TALK DIVORCE CASE FEATURE

Wife Charges Husband Made No Secret of His Love for Another

Worcester, March 14.—According to testimony offered in the hearing of Mrs. Christine L. Amsden's suit for a divorce from Arthur Amsden, the latter made no secret of his love for another.

Over the telephone at home, witness testified she heard: "Do you love me as much as ever, dearie? Where were you last night?"

A Quincy physician testified he had rendered professional service to a woman called Ruth Amsden and had sent his bill to Arthur Amsden.

The name of Ruth Tuttle of Quincy was frequently mentioned as the young lady Amsden so endearingly addressed.

"WORCESTER RED" IS HELD AS FUGITIVE

Worcester, March 14.—Morris Handleman, twenty-six years old, known as "Worcester Red," is under arrest here on the charge of being a fugitive from justice. He is said to be wanted in Troy on a charge of attempted grand larceny. He was arrested on a charge of attempting to steal diamonds in Troy, was held in $10,000 bail, but later the bail was reduced to $1,000. The police say Handleman jumped bail as soon as it was reduced.

ARREST IS PROMISED IN BRUNEN MURDER

Riverside, N. J., March 14.—Detectives are working on five clues in their search for the slayer or slayers of John T. Brunen, circus owner, shot to death in his home last Friday night. Prosecutor Jonathan Keiser said today an arrest would be made soon. The slain man's funeral was held today.

DIAZ, MEXICAN BANDIT, FACES FIRING SQUAD

Nogales, Ari., March 14.—General Francisco Diaz, bandit who was captured by Federal troops at Guaymas, was executed at Ortiz, military headquarters for the State of Sonora, according to word received here. Diaz has terrorized the west coast for several months, operating at the head of a band.

SWEDES SEND PROTEST TO RUSSIA

Protest Imprisonment of 5,000 Socialists by Soviet Chiefs

By the Associated Press.

Stockholm, March 14.—The Social Democratic party of Sweden, of which Premier Branting is head, has sent to the Soviet government of Russia a protest against the imprisonment of 5,000 Socialists in Georgia and Russia. The message asserts:

"The working class of Sweden has received reports regarding the treatment by the Soviet government of Russian and Georgian Socialists, which have aroused stupefaction and anger. Over 200 Russian Socialists of different groups have been forced to resort to hunger strike to call the world's attention to the sufferings to which they are exposed and to obtain an improvement of their conditions.

"Five thousand Georgian Social Democrats are now in prison on account of their not having voluntarily submitted to the force of Russian occupation. Others are deported by thousands or are forced to keep in hiding in order to escape the fate of those already arrested.

"It ought to be possible that a government that has repeatedly declared itself to be following a policy founded on socialist principles, submit its Socialist antagonists to such a treatment. It is, however, evident that the reports we receive are truthful, which must mean that the Soviet government ruthlessly violates the fundamental principles of Socialism and in a manner of unbelievable grossness challenges labor opinion all over the world.

"The crimes which the Soviet power thus committed and commits can hardly be atoned for. We know that we are speaking in the name of a practically unanimous Swedish working class when we are telling you that, unless the Russian and Georgian Socialists are set free and humanly treated, the Russian Soviet government will be the object of general detestation within the working class of this country. Deeply agitated and bitterly indignant, we protest against your treatment of Socialists who do not agree with the [illegible]"

PRESIDENT IN POLITICAL ROW WITH WOMEN

Republican Ladies Present Advances of Their Rival Party

By WILLIAM HARD

(Cosmopolitan News Service Staff Correspondent.)

(Copyright, 1922, by the Cosmopolitan News Service.)

Washington, March 14.—The President has certainly let himself in for a grand little scrap among the ladies who invite him to political functions.

He has consented to attend the opening of the building of the National Woman's Party in Washington. It becomes clear, however, that the women members of the National Legislative Committee of the Republican Party entertain the view that the President belongs to the Republican Party and that for him to go around getting vamped by another political party is behavior which must cause them grave concern.

The serious political point of the business is that the National Woman's party is supporting a proposed amendment which would forbid Congress to place any legal disabilities upon women. It is claimed by working women and by their representatives in such bodies as the Women's Trade Union League that this amendment would prevent Congress and would also prevent the State Legislatures from passing laws giving special protection to women in industry. Meanwhile the women members of the Republican national executive committee have been making special efforts to get the votes of working women for the Republican party.

Thus the situation produces the following line-up:

SCORES PARTY'S METHODS.

The women members of the Republican national executive committee are soliciting the votes of working women. The working women, as they showed in the recent convention of the Women's Trade Union League in Washington, are opposing the new proposed amendment of the National Woman's party and are therefore opposing the National Woman's party. At the moment the President consents to attend the opening of the building of the National Woman's party—an occasion which will be the opening also of the full agitation for the National Woman's party amendment and is seen in the act of seeming to give his blessing to that opening.

Observing Mrs. Medill McCormick in a gallery of the Senate, I sought an interview with her regarding the National Woman's Party from the standpoint of her membership in the Republican National Executive Committee.

Mrs. McCormick instantly and with great rapidity said:

"The methods of the National Woman's Party and the individuals are too truly distasteful to me, and while I am not specific I can tell you that I personally am absolutely sure that 99 per cent. of the organized Republican women of this country have the same view of the methods of the National Woman's Party and of the individuals of it I have."

ANGLO-JAPANESE PACT.

Passing from American to international policies there is nothing sadder than the present position of the British in Washington. They in reality get attacked with equal vigor by both the advocates and the opponents of the treaty now before the Senate. Consider the attitude of the British towards the Anglo-Japanese alliance and toward the four-power pact.

The Anglo-Japanese alliance is much more of a danger to the British empire than it is to the United States. In a war between the United States and Japan it would be inevitable that the Canadians and the Australians and the New Zealanders would sympathise with the United States and, if necessary would fight on the side of the United States. Then if Britain itself sided with Japan the British empire would be disrupted.

CHARGED WITH FRAUD ON STOREKEEPERS

Northampton, March 14.—Stephen Linehan of Bridgeport, Ct., was captured by Officer Murphy, charged with defrauding three Northampton merchants. Linehan's game, the police say, was to go into a store and ask the merchant for something that necessitated going to the rear of the store. When the merchant returned, Linehan would produce an article which he claimed had been purchased previously and would ask for his money back. The article in each case proved to be something taken from a counter while the merchant had been in the rear of the store. Linehan was captured in a paint store.

FIND LIGHTED CANDLES IN OIL-SOAKED STORE

Fairfield, Me., March 14.—Two lighted candles stuck in the tops of two kerosene cans standing in centre of piles of kerosene-soaked excelsior in the basement of the business block at the corner of Main street and Lawrence avenue were found by Chief Joseph Gurney when he was called by Claude Taylor, who was to have moved into the building today. Sheriff John A. Mooers of Skowhegan and Deputy Sheriff Wallace Hill of Fairfield questioned the owner, but no arrests have been made.

Church Clubs' Meeting

William Lyman Underwood will address a union meeting of the Men's Clubs of the First Congregational Church and the Church of the Epiphany, the Men's Class of the First Baptist Church and the Laymen's League of the Unitarian Church in the vestry of the First Congregational Church, Winchester, on this evening. His subject will be "Adventures in the Land of Sunshine."

Irish Delegations in Making Their Arguments Should Beware of Helping Along British Propaganda

We are informed that a delegation from both factions in Ireland are coming to America to present their respective views.

This is all right, but we urge upon all the friends of Ireland each to make himself a committee of one to do everything he can to prevent the controversy between the Irish factions, whose union has brought Great Britain to her knees, from becoming violent. This would, indeed, be playing straight into the hands of the British, for it would be confirming in the minds of many Americans the propaganda which the British have put out against the Irish in the last hundred years, namely, that they cannot govern themselves, and that to withdraw all control from Ireland would be to invite a bedlam.

It is the kind of lie which nearly every nation puts out about a nation which it is oppressing and governing against its will. But Great Britain has been telling this particular falsehood to the American people for a good many years, and it would be most unfortunate if any act of the Irish seemed to confirm this story. Nothing that the Irish would do could really confirm it, for, if an intelligent race like the Irish find it difficult to govern themselves temporarily without violence, it is on account of conditions which the British created.

But even in spite of those conditions, do not give them a chance to say, "I told you so."

Tip for Boston Alumni

Successful Providence Plan of Helping Deserving High School Students Should Be Adopted Here

In Providence there has just been put into effect a plan to award high school scholarships to pupils who, through various combinations of circumstances, are unable without help to complete their studies.

The Providence fund was made available through contributions by generous business and professional men.

There are no tuition fees to pay in public high schools, except for non-resident pupils. But it has been found that scholars are often forced to give up their course because their services are required as wage-earners for the home.

It was to help these deserving boys and girls that the fund was raised. Several pupils had given notice they would have to leave school regretfully with their coveted education incomplete. But the money came in time to lend them the needed home assistance. They will stay in high school to become men and women more fitted to fight the battles of life.

They are afforded by a most commendable charity that for which Presidents of the United States, in their boyhood, have been forced unassisted to strive by candle light or, like Lincoln, by the dull glow of the smouldering log in the open hearth.

Dating back to the early days of Oxford and Cambridge, scholarships in colleges have proved themselves of such substantial benefit that the one wonder is that the idea has not earlier been more generally extended to high schools.

Grateful Greater Boston alumni, 100 per cent. strong, surely should not be slow to adopt the Providence plan. It offers an outstanding opportunity to extend the right sort of community help to our deserving young people.

Learn About India

Hindu Bazaar Has Interesting and Educational Features Concerning a Little Understood People

Today and tomorrow at the Hotel Victoria, near Copley square, between 10 a. m. and 10 p. m., there is being held a Hindu Bazaar.

We understand that some very attractive features characterizing India grace the affair. We are told that it is not a money-raising bazaar, but is being held merely to raise up in the people of Boston some interest in the people of India, one-fifth of the human race, who are now going through a great crisis in their struggle for liberty.

We understand that the bazaar is free to those who would attend and no one needs to come with money to spend if he finds use for his money somewhere else.

It is a worthy undrtaking. Concerning international affairs we are far too provincial minded, and concerning India we are almost entirely ignorant. The school children can tell us that we owe our American existence to the feverish desire of the people of Europe to get a short route to the riches of India. It was India that Columbus was trying to find when he discovered America by accident. We ought to rediscover India, for a great people live there, with a culture that is 4,000 years old.

Religious Education

All praise to Boston University for the manner in which it has popularized along liberal lines its school for religious education and social service.

Starting in 1918, this school by leaps and bounds has grown in three years to such an extent that it has been compelled to move its headquarters twice in that period to provide for its classes. The increase in membership has been 347 per cent. in two years.

Can other educational institutions in this country show a better record?

Against Drug Traffic

The Boston American congratulates the Legislature upon the passing of a resolution memorializing Congress to enact a more drastic law against the importation of habit-forming drugs and their passing between the States.

It is good work and ought to have a good influence upon Congress. Few things can be more important than putting down the traffic in a deadly thing which destroys character and energy.

Somebody's Birthday

IF today is the anniversary of your birth, yours is a nature which undoubtedly bring you into continual conflict with your fellow beings.

You are sensitive, moody and intolerant of the opinions of others and if sufficiently angered you can go to untold lengths of vengance. On the other hand when a person pleases you and flatter you, you are capable of real sympathy and loyalty. Your talents are many and almost invaried.

You are inventive and capable of developing your ideas to a practicable conclusion. This is because your character is essentially solitary and you can spend hours working alone without the necessity of human companionship.

While you are stern in what you originally considered to be the righteous course, you are dominant but affectionate to those whom you really love. You are likewise domestic and on the whole you should prosper in any matrimonial venture you undertake.

Journeys contemplated today will undoubtedly be successful and will prove not only of material value but physical as well.

The ensuing year will be one of extremes for you. You personally will surmount all obstacles but many of your associates will fall by the way and you will be called upon to assist them materially.

Children born today will be clever and ingenious and original in their viewpoints. They will suffer hardships for their ideals but always come up smiling.

Famous persons born today:
James B. Bogardus—Inventor.
Joseph P. Bradley—Jurist.
John S. Marmaduke—Soldier and Governor.
King Humbert I. of Italy.

ITALIANS WOULD JOIN WITH U.S. TO EXPLOIT NEAR EAST

By EDWARD C. STRUTT,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

ROME, March 14.—Italian industrialists are anxious to go into business with America for the exploitation of the Near-Eastern market. A plan which is common to many of the big manufacturers and Italian exporters is to purchase raw materials in America, manufacture them in Italy and sell them to Turkey and the neighboring countries. Italy is without doubt the first western power in the hearts of the Turkish nationalists.

Italian ill-will against America, which rose to such a heat during the Fiume incidents, has entirely died down. The Italians explain that their demonstrations were against Mr. Wilson, and not against the American people. But it is quite probable that their difficulties since with other nations have helped to efface the memories of Fiume.

Generally speaking, Italy's attitude to her neighbors may be described as follows:

America—Very friendly and anxious for close relations.

England—Indifferently friendly, with a recognition of the necessity of getting along with England, and of a limited economic dependence on the British Isles.

France—A very keen dislike, which in many quarters would merit an even stronger expression.

Germany—Italy has a keen appreciation that because of her own depreciated currency she must do business with Germany, whose low mark makes commercial relations possible. Fear that Germany is attempting to secure an economic domination of Italy keeps alive a distrust of her former enemy. But there is no feeling of hate such as is found in France.

Austria—Italy feels that Austria is down and out and is rather sorry for her former foe. The healing of the ancient sore is best evidenced by the fact that thousands of Austrian children were brought to Italy last Summer and given care and good nourishment in Italian homes.

Jugo-Slovakia — Her eastern neighbor shares with France an occasional flare-up of Italian animosity, usually preceded by some international incident which has wounded Italy's pride.

Greece—The feeling between the two countries has been anything but good, but the Greek Premier Gunaris' visit to Rome has done much to iron out the differences.

If she has any feeling of affection for another power, Italy is directing it, now at least, toward America.

ARE YOU OFF-KEY WITH YOURSELF?

If thoughts of Spring do not make you feel more ambitious, more happy and more confident, there is something wrong with your makeup.

You are out of tune with nature.

You are off-key with yourself.

Probably you have had a hard time during the Winter, but there is something about the contemplation of warmer and brighter days, with pleasant weather, that should arouse a hope that Spring will bring you more joy.

If you do not look forward to Spring as a time when you will be better able to overcome problems before you, you have lost confidence in yourself.

If you have lost confidence you are not trying to better yourself.

Faith and energy are needed back of the desire to master difficulties.

You must have faith, energy and desire to amount to anything.

Forget your troubles of the past, so far as influencing your future.

If the past misfortunes contained a lesson for you, remember it, and press on eagerly to put in practice the lesson learned.

Live in the future—work for the future—exert yourself with the belief that the future contains your best good.

Germany's Big Debt

BERLIN, March 14.—America is the world's greatest creditor, Germany the world's greatest debtor. Germany owes almost twice as much as the whole world owes America.

The Bureau of Statistics of the German government has issued an interesting survey of the world's indebtedness. Standing at the head of the list is Germany's reparation debts, amounting to 132,000,000,000 gold marks, or $31,000,000,000.

The world owes the United States at present something over $10,000,000,000, in exact figures $10,141,000,000—in other words, not quite a third of what Germany is called upon to pay alone.

According to the average dollar exchange at present, the world's debts to the United States amount to 2,867,000,000,000 paper marks, whereas Germany's reparation debts amount to 8,264,000,000,000.

The world's total indebtedness to the United States at present amounts to approximately $18,000,000,000, distributed as follows:

War loans amounting to $10,000,000,000; sale of left-over war materials and moneys owing American exporters and importers, each category amounting to $3,000,000,000; investment in foreign government bonds to the amount of $2,000,000,000.

Great Britain alone is the United States' debtor to the amount of $4,000,000,000; France, $3,333,333,333 (about); Italy, $1,600,000,000; Belgium, $375,000,000; Russia, $192,000,000; Poland, $135,000,000; Czecho-Slovakia, $91,000,000; Serbia, $51,000,000; Rumania, $36,000,000; German Austria, $24,000,000; Greece, $15,000,000.

EVERYONE OUGHT TO OWN A HOME

By Winifred Black

Copyright, 1922, Newspaper Syndicate, Inc.

FIFTY-EIGHT per cent of the people of the United States are said to rent their homes.

Fifty-eight per cent — this means that more than one-half the people in this country don't know the meaning of a real, sure-enough, honest-to-goodness home.

They roost in apartment houses, they cluster in flat buildings like swarms of bees, they hide in tenements.

They go back and forth to the suburbs—catching the five-fifteen, for lonesome hearths by the sea one year, and for home-makers by the forest the next.

They never own a foot of land, never so much as a front-door key of their own—poor things, and they think they are living.

A rich man told me about it the other day.

"I never own a house," he said. "It doesn't pay. I can make my money work for me in a dozen better ways to more advantage."

Poor creature—and he meant every word he said.

Habit Being Lost?

Home? Are we getting entirely out of the habit of having a home at all, we Americans?

I know a man who has three daughters and three sons—a very rich man. And he is building a magnificent home for each of his children.

And the man has searched the world for treasures with which to fill these beautiful houses.

And the man's six children are very fond of him—but they are, every one of them, planning to sell their homes as soon as their father dies.

One is going to buy a yacht, and one is going abroad to live, and one wants to travel around the world. And the others hate the thought of being tied to one place.

Now, if those children were Europeans they would hang onto those homes—though everything else failed. And they would hand them down from one generation to the next, for hundreds of years.

And every stone and every rafter and every brick that went into the building of them would be precious and almost sacred.

I wonder if we Americans do not miss something very sweet and beautiful in life when we give up the idea of a home.

For me—listen:

There's a little round hill in a long, green valley, and at the foot of the hill is a laughing river, and in the distance there are the forest trees, and all around about the little green hill there are miles and miles of orchards and vineyards. And there's a windmill atop of the little green hill, and it beckons and beckons and says it me, over and over:

"Come home — come home! Here is peace—here is quiet—here is faith and love and time."

Home, Sweet Home

Long afternoons, quiet mornings, sweet evenings in the starlight—dear hours before the dancing fire on the plain little hearth. Outside the rough sheep dog will keep faithful watch and guard, and when the sun goes down the forest trees will seem to gather nearer like so many sentinels. And in the evening's quiet, and the leaves of the orchard trees are not rustling too much, if you will listen, you will hear it like a droning accompaniment—the thunder of the surf upon the beach not twelve miles away.

And I would rather think of the little round hill and the laughing river and the old windmill and the quiet hearth, than to read any book however fascinating, or go to any play however thrilling.

For atop of the little round, green hill—is—Home.

Ex Libris

—By Zoe B. Faber—

INDIA, Japan and America, a fascinating triangle of travel delights, was what E. V. Lucas selected for the matter of "Roving East and Roving West." He chats about most of the places that everybody does on these three countries, but what is much nicer, he chats about a good many that others pass by.

His touch is one that does not fail in bringing out the most delicate bits of beauty. Nor is he apt to let slip a chance to tell you about the countless little incidents which are so amusingly told that you almost feel that they had happened to you—to our mind, skilful writing.

To Bostonians, his sketch on Boston with the appreciation of the lovely spots here, with the underlying humor for certain of Boston's ways, should be charming. We enjoyed it greatly and think that you would, too. It is about the last picture of the collection, but don't skip one in coming to it, for we do not recommend it above any of the others. They are all particularly nice—but you will like "Boston" because you are a good booster for Boston. In passing, so is he. And he's British.

NOT BORN TOO LATE, BUT TOO SOON

By Dr. Charles Fleischer

WE have been "fed up" on Utopias. Dealing in "futures" is a poor substitute for present satisfactions.

Contemplation of the glories which are to come does not make up for the reality of existing miseries. Vicarious happiness is not a compensation to the average of us who feel that we were born not too late, but perhaps too soon.

It reminds one of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "The Mikado." Nanki Poo is to enjoy a brief spell of bliss with his beloved Yum Yum, on condition that at the end of a month he allows himself to be beheaded.

He is assured that his decapitation is to be capitalized as a great occasion. There will be a brass band and a parade and other "fixins." In the evening there is to be a brilliant display of fireworks and——

The narrator, the Lord High Executioner, notes that Nanki Poo is not particularly interested in the joyous details of the celebration attendant upon his "taking off." Nor is the prospective victim comforted by Ko Ko's assurance:

Such a Good Time

"You won't be there. No, of course not. But we shall have such a good time, such a good time."

They say that the Chinese have no sense of humor. Which is ridiculous. At any rate this one did. It was Monday morning, and John was busy at his cleanly, if not godly, task of hanging out the washing. An Irish tramp interrupted the process to beg for a meal.

Knowing Pat's habits, John asked him: "You likee flish?" Pat had visions of a steaming fish chowder, as he nodded assent. Without a smile, John said: "Well, you come alound Fliday!"

Now, what earthly good to hungry Pat on Monday is the distant scent of the heavenliest chowder on the following Friday? Obviously, you cannot satisfy today's appetite on the promise of tomorrow's meals. So much certainly is true of us physically.

But it is an amazing, if natural, product of many's metaphysical nature, that he has been able to spin existent ugliness into a future of beauty. So he has extended his unfulfilled desire into the unknown, and has built up another life of glorious fulfillment out of the thwarted wishes of this life.

Again, not only have the various religions promised a paradise of some sort after death, but also certain philosophers have dared to prophesy a perfected society set in this goodly frame, the Earth.

The religions have offered heavenly compensations for earth's unsatisfaction; and the Utopians, from Plato to Wells, have given up programmes for establishing a kingdom of heaven on earth.

Always the future, always postponement, always the implication that we are born too soon, that we must not expect too much of the present.

Duly they may succeed in transforming us into spiritual giraffes, because they made us habitually stretch our necks so much, in the vain endeavor to enjoy, at least by imaginative seeing, the world that is to be.

Without criticising the prevalent custom of projecting our souls into the infinite, or the planning of perfect societies in the future, one may at any rate query whether this psychological habit of postponement has not prevented the progress of the race here and now.

Think it over for yourself. Ask yourself how much your own way of postponing and proscrastinating paralyzes your productive efficiency in the present moment.

As an Individual

To You, as an individual, it should also be said that you owe it to yourself to draw into the present your dream of what you feel you might be and do and have, if you could only come along a little later.

The one good of this stuff of dreams, of which our lives are so largely made, is to use it as material to weave into the enrichment of TODAY!

Perhaps you recall—as the writer does, out of his early boyhood sighing when you read of the glories of the heroic past. If only you had lived then, instead of being born so late into the dull and drab and prosy present!

As you grew older, and projected your spirit into the compensating future with its promise of dream fulfillment, you began to feel that perhaps you had been born too soon.

For the race will all be giants in the days to come; wisdom and beauty will be the common riches and work will be a joy.

No, friend, you came neither too late nor too soon.

At any rate, here you are! And it is your function, as also it is within your power, to work wonders with yourself, in the prest of Eternal Now.

Instead of being one of the complacent embodiments of procrastinating postponement, suppose you get busy and constitute yourself a militant apostle of America's practical creed: "DO IT NOW!"
